Dondero . . .

Royal Oak High School opened its doors in 1926 as an educational institution with a goal in mind for students to "Enter here to learn, go forth to serve." When the Royal Oak community grew, Royal Oak High School could not facilitate all the students. Another high school was built in 1957, and this building became George A. Dondero High School. Over the years, Royal Oak Dondero High School has been a school like no other. This school is well-known for its warm, caring, family-like atmosphere.

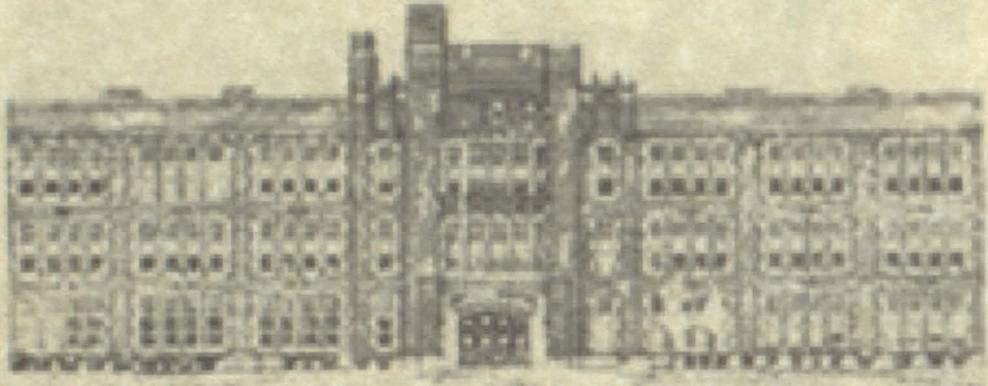

This year, 2006, Royal Oak Dondero High School will be closing its doors for good, and once again, the city of Royal Oak will have one Royal Oak High School. While the closing of this institution that has meant so much to so many individuals is sad, it is also a time of celebration. This year, more than ever, the spirit of Royal Oak Dondero High School is very much alive and is ever-present everywhere. The students show it, the staff show it, and the alumni show it. Royal Oak Dondero High School has left an indelible mark with anyone who has ever been a part of our community.

With this final edition of the OAK, we want to communicate what Royal Oak Dondero High School has meant to us using "words." Words transcend time, and with this, Dondero's final mark, we present to you, Volume 124 of Dondero High School's OAK, "The Final Word."

The Alumni Blast wasn't an event that Dondero hosts annually; many events, like this one, were organized to celebrate Royal Oak Dondero High School in its last year. The Alumni Blast was held on October 14, 2005 as a kickoff to the big Homecoming game. "The turn-out was magnificent, more than I expected," said Ann Maudlin. Nearly 6,000 people attended this event! Alumni showed their support for RODHS by sporting posters that displayed their graduating class in the annual Homecoming parade. Marching Band alumni were invited to play and march along in the parade as well. After the parade, Dondero merchandise was for sale, and old high school friends and teachers had the chance to reunite on their former "stomping grounds." It was clear that Dondero High School has meant a lot to many people, and the support and excitement of that day was refreshing. "This is a place where you learn about people building a community, spirit, and family," said Maudlin.

Joyce E. Warren Class of 1965

Joyce E. Warren, Class of 1965 (deceased 1984). Served USN, Vietnam Era medic; BSN, San Diego State University (honor student), 1977. Joy's spirit lives on through her sister, Cheryl, class of 1963 and others that she served. While Joy, like many, had fun, "cruisin", etc. during high school, she matured to breathe life into the motto:

"Enter here to learn, go forth to serve."

I walked down these halls
And read faces like books,
Seniors heads held high
Freshman faces, nervous looks.

These blessed four years,
Climbing the Dondero ladder.
Kids to the side chatting,
A soft pitter-patter.

A sense of belonging
when I step into these doors.
My spirit is an eagle,
And through these halls it soars.

The cohesivness of this school
Is hard to explain through a poem.
A place so amazing,
A home away from home.

You've your actors, your athletes
Your littles and your talls,
Hundreds and thousands of bricks,
Memories bind these walls.

This school has special feeling,
An iridescent glow.
If you were never a member of this family,
Then you will never know.

Up and over obstacles,
Side to side we swerve,
This is where we enter
Then go forth to serve.

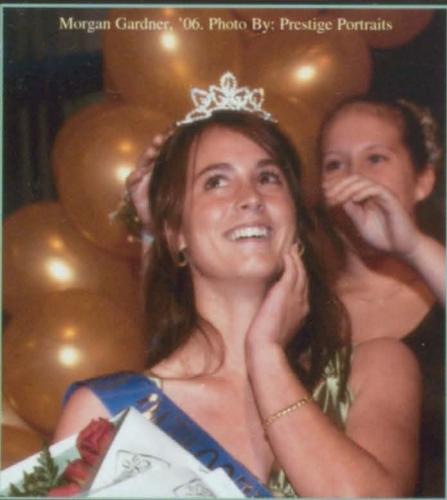

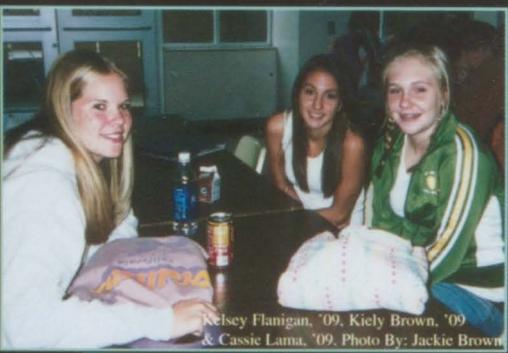

Diversity is Dondero's medicine,
Easily we mix,
From 1927
To the year 2006.

Good-bye beautiful tile work,
Memories will never pass
So long, Dondero High School,
Your shades drawn at half mass.

"Participation" Tailgate

Football players, cheerleaders, band members and other fellow students gathered in the gym for Dondero's final Tailgate. Some students like Alexandra Wendland, '07, were at Tailgate to raise money for clubs and sports or just to keep everything in order. "I was in charge of Tailgate because of Senate. I had to make sure all the clubs got to their tables and had everything that they needed," said Wendland. Tailgate seemed to be successful to everyone. "This was the first Tailgate I have been to because I always had football practice, and it was a lot of fun," said Christopher Layou, '07. Along with the student organizations, the PTSA, Booster Club, and the Transition Team also joined in the festivities at Tailgate.

Following the theme "Happily Ever After," the senior class float won first place with a castle and a moving dragon. As Dondero's last graduating class, seniors went out with a bang.

The acorn carriage was designed and built by the junior class. It is complete with a princess and incorporates the opponent Hazel Park by dragging a dead, headless dummy wearing a Hazel Park jersey.

The sophomore float came in fourth in the float building competition. The float consists of a kingdom on a football field.

In successfully completing their first float, the freshmen took third place with a glass slipper stepping on a Hazel Park player.

Representatives from each class gathered at the entrance of the football field to walk next to their class float. The sophomores came in fourth, the freshmen came in third, the juniors came in second, and the seniors went away with first place. "The senior float was sweet; they definitely deserved to win," said Cullen McHugh, '08. Along with all the hard work that was done, there was also the fun that comes along with float parties. "A bunch of us waited outside Derek Balnius's house with hoses, waiting to see if anyone was coming to toilet paper us," said Katelyn Ather, '07. This year's floats were very festive and went with the theme for homecoming, "Happily Ever After."

At a sophomore float meeting, Jennifer Johnson, '08, lends a helping hand in making one of the thousands of flowers to be placed on the float. The yellow flowers made the giant goalposts on the float.

"Lively" Spirit Week

Cheering, dancing, games and fun, a little something for everyone. Dondero's 2005-2006 Spirit Week was far from boring. "This year's spirit week was a blast," said Kelly Robinson, '09. The week's schedule went as follows: 'Hat Day', 'Twin Day', 'Wacky Tacky Day', 'Detroit Sports Day', and 'Dondero Spirit Day'. Second year senator Andrea Shippey, '07, said, "This year's Homecoming week took a lot of hard work, especially the pep assembly." The pep assembly took place on Friday, the day of the last Homecoming game in Dondero's history. There were many fun events that went on at the pep assembly, such as court questions, games, and a performance from the dance team. "My favorite part of the pep assembly was when James Rex, '06, did his dance in the middle of the gym floor," said Jeffrey Anderson, '08. The pep assembly went perfectly and got Dondero students pumped for the game that followed.

The memories of the last Homecoming here at Dondero will always be everlasting. "I would say Homecoming this year was by far the best one ever," said Todd Saukko, '07. This year's homecoming was a great one for the last homecoming in Dondero's history. The theme this year was "Happily Ever After." The rooms included the castle room and the enchanted forest, and the bathrooms were pirates and mermaids. "This dance took a lot of hard work and dedication," said Leahandra Wendland, '08. The dance had a great turn-out. Over 600 students, including some alumni, showed up to the dance. "This homecoming was better than what I expected it to be," said Ashley Leslie, '09.

"... It's late in the evening; she's wondering what clothes to wear. She puts on her make-up and brushes her long blonde hair. And then she asks me, "Do I look all right? And I say 'yes,' you look wonderful tonight." Eric Clapton - "Wonderful Tonight"

"Vogue Trends"

Trends, there's always some sort of fad that everyone tries to keep up with. Whether it's something that stays or something that fades quickly, it seems more often than not we look back and think, "What was I wearing?!" This year, trends widely varied. Fashion was whatever you wanted it to be. Miya Hooks, '06, said, "I really like the look with the colored tights, mini-skirt, and boots." Gabriel Kish, '06, said, "I like the more conservative look for girls, with polos and stuff."

However, Nicole Hartwig, '08 said, "I like the whole Bohemian-inspired thing." In addition to these looks, sequined purses, shrugs, and gaucho pants were really popular with the ladies. Tighter fitted jeans, polos and vintage t-shirts became popular with the guys. Hartwig said that variety is key. "Spending a lot of money isn't what makes a look. If you mix thrift store stuff with one or two nice pieces, you can create a really cool look."

To the left: Bracelets for both genders were really cool this year. They were seen in thick and leather, or thin and abundant. Students wore them in all different styles. Some even were able to turn necklaces around their wrists.

Above: Track jackets keep you toasty warm in the not-so-hot, but not-so-cold autumn weather. The retro/vintage look that's coming back this year makes these zip-ups a must have. "Yeah, they're quite stylish," said Amelia Anderson, '06.

The crowd in the Dondero auditorium was far from silent. There were guitars, pianos, and even trombones playing throughout the night. It was the night of Pop Concert 2005. Pop Concert was an outstanding mixture of vocal and instrumental talent. Some solos that stood out were James Hartrick, '05, singing "Burning Down the House" by Talking Heads, accompanied by James Semivan, '06, playing trombone. Also a favorite was Robert Schurig, '06, and Michael Farr, '06, singing a duet to "Dust in the Wind" by Kansas. "This concert was a lot of hard work," said Julie Thomas, '07. The A Cappella choir started practice a month before the concert. The A Cappella choir sang "Carry On My Wayward Son" by Kansas, "Baby Won't You Drive My Car" by The Beatles and "You're My Best Friend" by Queen. The end of Pop Concert was the same as in years past. The alumni all came back and sang "Aquarius" by The Fifth Dimension. "In three words, Pop Concert is a good experience," said Farr.

"Resemblance Siblings"

Gus Brovold, '09
& Thor Brovold, '06

Sean Riopelle, '06, and Kallie Riopelle, '08, are so happy to be related. They're best friends.

Kendal Andersen, '08
& Taryn Andersen, '06

Brothers and sisters crowd the halls of Dondero High School as the bells ring throughout the day. Gus Brovold, '09, was a freshman this year, coming to school with his senior brother, Thor Brovold, '06. Kendal Andersen, '08, was a sophomore this year, coming to school with her senior sister, Taryn Andersen, '06.

As you can see, our Dondero students share many of the same physical characteristics. "We're pretty much the same person," said Taryn. Some siblings have the same noses, eyes, or hair, but more importantly than that they have each other. Brothers and sisters at Dondero are lucky that they aren't too far apart in age, and because of this closeness, they have the opportunity to share a friendship that can't be duplicated anywhere else. "We're pretty much best friends," said Taryn and Kendal.

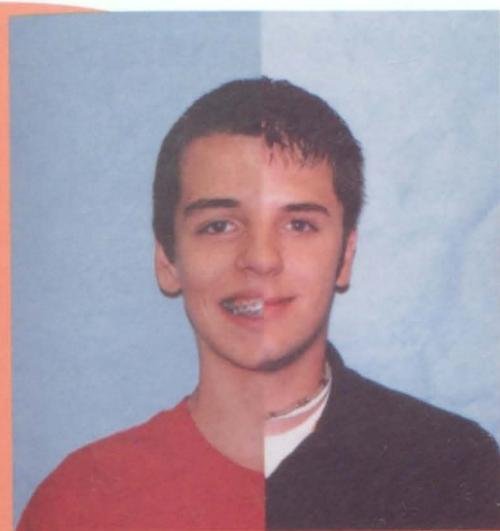

Despite their closeness, it seems there's never a dull moment in the Brovold home. "When I go to bed I smack him. He always puts banana peels in my bed, and I smack him with them when he's sleeping," said Thor.

When asked about the bathroom situation in the mornings, Gus said, "We don't fight about the bathroom in the morning because of marching band. I leave early." The Andersen girls have a similar situation. "We don't fight about the bathroom in the morning, because it takes me like two seconds in the morning. All I have to do is brush my teeth, wash my face, and I'm ready to go," said Kendal.

Even through the chaos, deep down, all siblings love each other. "I'm going to miss her when she goes to college," said Kendal of Taryn.

"It's odd going to the same school as Thor. He makes fun of me in the hallways a lot, but I guess it's just brotherly love," said Gus. Whether they're putting banana peels in each other's beds or sharing a laugh over an inside joke, Dondero siblings are, in a word, "priceless". So there you have it, sibling love in the Dondero halls.

There are many traits in this school that make it stand out more than any other school. We have so many unique people and teachers at Dondero. "This school has such a big sense of community. We are all so close," said Jordan Potter, '06. Dondero High School has had so many memorable moments. All of the kids in this school are so close and are going to take these memories with them when they go.

"Everyone in this school knows everyone," said Jamesa Gracy, '05. There has always been so much love in this school, and it has gotten even stronger as the years go on. Everyone loves this school, and it is going to be sad to see it go.

"Expenditure" Student Expenses

Dondero tee-shirts, yearbooks, and parking passes are just some of the things students at Dondero purchased throughout the year. Class rings, another expenditure, are offered during your sophomore year through your senior year, ranging from many different prices. Mark Patterson, '07, got his for $143.00. "It was definitely worth it; I love it," said Patterson. Patterson's ring includes a Michigan State Spartan head and a basketball, because that is what he is interested in. Another possible purchase that is offered to people with cars are parking passes for $20.00. Some students, such as Allyse Josefosky, '07, believe that price is too much for a parking pass. "I don't think we should have to pay that much a year to park in the school parking lot. We have to go to school, and we need somewhere to park," said Josefosky. However, most of the things available to purchase are very useful and are good for a longer period of time.

Jacob Nielsen, '09, Sean Barry, '09, Matthew Mayer, '09, Alexander Berard, '09, Sean Burwell, '09, and Domenic Smith, '09, have all been best friends since preschool, and they always find a way to have a good time.

Alyssa Ruggero, '08, and Chelsea Anderson, '08, enjoy a quick picture in the hallway to show that they are best friends.

Best buds inside and outside of school, Sam Lynch, sassy Irishman, and Alec Snyder, "Star Wars" lover, are so happy to just be together.

High-fiving, Melissa Miller, '06, and her best friend Nicholas Casabon, '06, know how to make each other smile.

Movies, shopping, video games, and hanging out are just some of the things best friends at Dondero do when they are together. "We used to play dress up when we were little, now we just watch movies and talk," said Alyssa Ruggero, '08, and Chelsea Anderson, '08. Because of their parent, they have been friends since they were babies. However, these friends don't always have a good time. "We get into arguments all the time, but it's never serious enough to get into a fight," said Nicole Unsworth, '09, and Kelsey Flanigan, '09. It's getting over these fights and creating memories that make these friendships so special and unique.

Being friends for many years, Cory Smith, '07, and Benjamin Blostein, '07, are always there for each other when they need someone to lean on.

Whether having classes together, shopping, or just hanging out, best friends Nicole Unsworth, '09, and Kelsey Flanigan, '09, like to spend most of their time together.

Did You

Know

Dondero...

Looking back at Dondero in 1979...

WOAK had a new broadcasting room built.

There was once a vocational food restaurant run by students, open to the public located in the building.

SEOVEC programs helped students get a jump start on their careers. This program
included floral design,
commercial art, optical mechanics, and cosmetology.

One of Dondero's many mysteries is the "Stairway to Heaven." This compelling staircase only has three steps that lead off into open air. Why is this here? Does it really lead to Heaven? Will we ever know?

"Heart" Boys Varsity Football

The Oaks had a very difficult season this year. With the record of 0 wins and 9 losses, the adversity they overcame was truly amazing. "The wins and losses didn't really mean that much to us. We never gave up," said Matthew Layou, '06. The spirit was incredible, even after the losses. When the morale was as low as possible, the spirit would always bounce back. The coaches and captains really helped out with lifting the team up. "Being a captain, you are seen as a better player and a role model, and many people look up to you," said Jason Maurice, '06.

Watching the team from a whole different perspective, Jake LaCroix, '07, was disappointed with how the season turned out. LaCroix tore his ACL only two games into the season, leaving him only to be able to cheer from the sidelines. "The only reason why the season was disappointing to me was because of all the hard work and long hours that all the guys put into practice. Other than that, the team was so close that it didn't matter what the record was. They were going to do what they could to try and pull through," said LaCroix. Excited for next year's season at Royal Oak High School, along with many others, LaCroix said he has nothing but fond memories and good times on the Dondero Varsity Football Team.

"Solid" Boys Varsity Golf

The boys varsity golf team was extremely loaded with talent this year. They had a solid core of experienced seniors that led the team to be successful, but all in all the teammates felt like the season was an underachievement. The team record was 8-6, and for many people that would be good, but for the level of talent on the team it could have gone way better.

"The captains kept us on our toes and helped us out on our skills," said Anthony Hallett, '06. The captains, Nicholas Johnson and Jim Uelmen, really led the team during the season, not only through leading by example but by taking time out of their day to help out other teammates who were having difficulties. They kept the spirits up even through the hard times. "Our team was really committed, and that was a factor that played into our success," said Paul Buck, '06.

The lifespan of a golfer is way longer than any other sport, and continuing on in the future is definitely an option for the players of the golf team here at Dondero.

"Motivational" Varsity Cheerleading

Motivational leaders or cheerleaders are a vital part of any sporting event. They get the crowd into the game and give life to the competitors on the playing field. "We try to pep up the team during the games. We give them the edge on the field," said cheerleader Bianca Small, '09.

These girls put in hours of work every week to choreograph cheers for game days, hoping they could inspire their team to victory. "Everybody has to be on the same page when you cheer. It takes a lot of practice to get that timing perfect," said Lindsay Dyja, '07. It was evident that the team utilized this practice time as their cheers improved throughout the year.

The amazing jumps, flips, and stunts that the Dondero cheerleaders performed showed the athletic ability that it takes to cheer. "Cheerleading is a sport and takes many skills to perfect," said Small. These girls are proof of that.

"Love" Girls Varsity Tennis

This year's girls tennis team had a good season. There were many first year players on this team. The main goal for these girls was to improve their game throughout the course of the season. "I practiced mostly with Meghan Luzod, '06, sometimes with the machine, and sometimes with the coach. We mainly played against each other to get used to real game situations," said Carolin Jakobs, '06. Singles players worked a lot with the ball machine to improve their games. Doubles players did a lot of serving and volleying, and worked on technique to improve their form. "My most memorable moment this year was when we had a really long match against Southfield, and we finally beat them," said Emma Dawda, '08. The teammates worked well together to improve the overall game. They never quit and always tried their hardest. The girls played their best and worked hard to make the last season one that they will never forget.

"Tenacity" Boys Varsity Soccer

With a record of 14 wins, 3 losses, and 2 ties, the Dondero Boys Varsity Soccer had a very successful season. Practice helped the players get through long and tiring 70 minute games. The varsity soccer boys started every practice with a three mile run; then they moved on to stretching and drills. Captain Mitchell Erwin, '06, has been playing the rough and tough game of soccer for 13 years. As a graduating senior, he will be missing the Dondero Oaks team, but he is looking forward to the future. "I will hopefully be playing at the college level," said Erwin.

"I play on another team called the Royal Oak Rockers, but nothing compares to the Dondero team," said Matthew Palm, '08. As a sophomore, Palm is wishing for another varsity letter at the new Royal Oak High School next year. There will be many underclassmen going to the newly combined school, such as junior Michael Sansom, '07. He has been playing since he was four years old, living in Australia. "Soccer is a very big thing in Australia. Everyone plays it," said Sansom. The District Finals was the team's ultimate goal, which they had to work their hardest to achieve.

"Driven" Girls Varsity Basketball

Some people expected this year's girls varsity basketball team to accept the losing ways of old and give up on the chance of a productive year. The 12 players on the squad desired a different fate and used this doubt as motivation towards their struggle for victories. "We were a very focused team. People expected us to lose every game this year, and we knew that we had to work harder than anyone else to get that win on game night," said power forward and co-captain, Allison Voglesong, '07.

The Oaks battled every game in search of victory, and when that first win came on October 6th against the Hazel Park Vikings, the girls were ecstatic. "I don't even know how to explain it. We worked so hard to get to that point, and it felt so good to get rewarded with a win," said center, Justine Stange, '08.

The Oaks surprised many fans and added more wins throughout the year. "We showed that with hard work, winning is possible," said point guard, Samantha Finney, '08, "and that the Dondero Girls Varsity Basketball Team was for real."

"Stamina" Varsity Cross Country

The cross country team had yet another strong season, finishing with an 8-2 record. Practices consisted of different drills which varied day to day. Some days would be distance runs, which were four to five miles or more, and other days would be speed work-outs or hill work-outs at the Lamphere hill. The team worked very hard to achieve their goals. There were many talented runners, a few running for the first time. "I just wanted to run the best time I could. It was my first year, so I didn't really have a set time, just to run to the best of my ability," said first year cross country runner, Brianna English, '06. Running is definitely harder than people think. They must be well-conditioned and must eat right to do well in the meets. The night before meets, the team had pasta parties, ate lots of carbs, and drank a ton of water. "While I run I usually sing songs, do math problems, daydream, or just think about the English paper that I have to write after the meet," said Gabrielle Rome, '09.

"Sportsmanship" Girls Swimming and Diving

Whether jumping off the blocks, diving smoothly into the clear blue water, springing off the diving board or doing elegant flips through the air and into the water, the Dondero Girls Swim Team stops at nothing to do their best at all of the meets and practices. The team's competition was harder than ever, and at Leagues they managed to attain fifth place out of fifteen different schools. In order to accomplish such a great goal, they had to work very hard and never give up. "The hardest part about being on the team were the work-outs and trying to stay focused the entire time," said Natalie Sirianni, '08. They also had a lot of enjoyable moments to go along with all of the hard work. As a combined team with Kimball High School, the new friendships flourished. "The team members are by far the best part of being involved in swimming," said Lauren Steyskal, '08. The girls had a great time, not only playing a sport they love, but also by being with their old and new friends on the team.

"Showmanship"

Varsity Dance Team

"One more time!" The varsity dance team heard this phrase from their coach many times while trying to perfect their routines throughout the year. The girls learned a routine in September that they would critique until February 3rd when they would perform in Orlando, Florida at the National Dance Team Championships.

Since the dance team has been attending the NDTC, the highest the girls have placed is 11th, but improving on that rank isn't the only reason for coming back. "The highlight to any year of dance is going to Nationals. We get to perform, but also get to watch other great teams perform as well as going to Disneyland for the week that we're there," said Autumn Fromm, '06.

These girls know how to have fun, but they also know when it's time to get serious. "We work as hard as any other sport," said Rhiannon Dixon, '06. Sometimes sports such as dance don't get the credit they deserve, but these girls recognize the effort they put forth and the skill that it takes to perform their routines. "Dance is a sport as well as a performance," said Dixon. "You must have good showmanship and keep your "facial" while performing."

"Strength"

Boys Swimming and Diving

The Royal Oak Boys Swim and Dive team had to uphold the undefeated record and league champion title from last year. This strong and determined group of both Dondero and Kimball guys were very successful at accomplishing all of their goals. Most of the swimmers have been swimming for years and are very passionate about the sport. "I have been swimming ever since I was in fourth grade, and I have always loved to do it," said Daniel Lewan, '06. In order for the team to do so well, they frequently had to wake up early for practices. "The hardest part about being on the swim team is the six in the morning practices, twice a week," said Zachary Benton, '06. At the end of the season, all of the hard work-outs seemed to have paid off, giving the Royal Oak team a competitive reputation.

Boys Varsity Basketball

The Dondero Varsity Basketball Team stops at nothing to try to achieve their goal of winning against their tough competitors. First year varsity player, Justin Kaczmarek, '07, started his season before try-outs at open gym, where players could go to have fun and get back into the basketball season. "I try to stay in shape during the off season," said Kaczmarek. Most of the players on the team try to prepare themselves for the hard practices ahead of them. "The practices can be really challenging, but it is still exciting to play the game," said Nicholas Bidelman, '07. Without these practices, though, the players would never be able to get through the fast-paced games throughout the season. All in all, the varsity basketball team knew what it took in order for them to have an enjoyable and successful season.

"Adrenaline" Varsity Wrestling

This year's Royal Oak Varsity Wrestling team put in a lot of time, hard work, and effort. Practices consisted of mostly drills and conditioning; the rest is just live wrestling. All of this leads to winning matches. The team has been combined for the last few years, and it doesn't seem to be a very big problem with the wrestlers. The team gets along pretty well. Eric Akers, '07, who wrestles in the 171 weight class, said, "Having a combined team is alright. We get picked on occasionally, but not too much. It doesn't really bother me." Akers decided to get back into wrestling this year and is determined to place in the State. Harry Saville, '08, who wrestles in the 130 weight class, said, "My goal is to at least make it to States."

"Winning" Girls Varsity Volleyball

In a year when a lot of our athletic teams struggled, the girls varsity volleyball team stood out as a bright spot for all of Dondero High School sports. The girls came into the season with expectations to match last year's stellar record of fourteen wins and zero losses in league play. "We had high expectations for our team. We knew how much talent we possessed and how bad we wanted it," said returning starter Alexandria O'Hara, '06.

This "winning" mentality is the same mentality that surrounds the locker rooms of all successful teams. It's something that these players possess because of past success and of belief in themselves and their fellow players. "We know that we can be successful. It's all there," said Rebecca Comby, '07.

So if you ever saw these girls playing freeze tag before a game and worried about them being "mentally prepared", you shouldn't have, because these girls always bring it.

"Perfection" Varsity Gymnastics

For the past couple of years, the Royal Oak Gymnastics team has been extremely successful. The girls moved up to Division One, making the competition really tough. As the season progressed, the team continued to overcome obstacles and grew a lot.

Some people may think that because the "cross town rivals" are side by side competing together, there would be a problem. This is the absolute opposite of the truth, and the girls said that the team has bonded and become so close that you would never be able to tell that they were from different schools. This puts the team at an advantage for next year's consolidation.

"The seniors on the team really take over and are good role models for the younger girls. The team is really close, and that makes it so much fun," said captain, Jamie Skewes, '06.

Royal Oak Gymnastics had a lot of new talent this year, consisting of seven new girls, five of whom competed regularly. With the help of this new talent, the team earned a high score of 132.5. They received this score at the Troy Athens Invitational Meet, placing fourth out of twelve teams. Also this year the team qualified Regionals and a few continued on to the State Meet.

"Talented" Varsity Hockey

This year's hockey team combined with Kimball and had sixteen seniors on the roster. The team was very knowledgeable and experienced. As the season progressed, the team improved. "Although the team was not very big, we capitalized on our strengths, which were our speed and our offense," said senior Anthony Susin, '06.

Led by captains, James Rex, '06, DJ LeAnnis, Kimball student, and Travis Dittmer, Kimball student, the Royal Oak Blades excelled in big games. Overall, the season was successful. The boys made their way to regionals, but lost at the district level. The players took away more than victory. Before every game, at the end of the national anthem, each player on the team slapped their sticks on the ice in a pre-game ritual. They took away friendships and good leadership skills. "The team was really close, and that's where a lot of our success came from, because we were together on and off the ice," said Sean Riopelle, '06.

“Intensity” Boys Varsity Lacrosse

It is a close score. The sun is beating down on the players as the game comes to an end. With the score so close, the junior varsity lacrosse team works their hardest, making sure that they do not lose to their competitors, Romeo High School. Finally, the whistle is blown, and Royal Oak wins their first game of the season. Lacrosse is a fast-paced, full-contact sport that includes both Dondero and Kimball boys. Being one of the only combined teams, the players agree on one thing: “It is a lot of fun getting to know all of the Kimball guys on the team,” said Jeffrey Robinson, ‘07. He will be joining some of his Kimball teammates at Royal Oak High School his senior year.

The teams are looking forward to more successful future seasons and hopefully, more boys trying out. This was Robinson’s first year playing lacrosse. “I needed a sport that would help me stay in shape for hockey,” said Robinson. The Royal Oak Lacrosse Team is a newly combined sport offered to Dondero that will continue to expand and succeed during the following years.

"Endurance" Track and Field

Whether it is running, jumping, throwing, or sprinting that you are good at, track and field gives everyone a chance to show their stuff. Shot-put and discuss all-state athlete, Sara Dunaj-Ring '08 is a great example. Not only does Dunaj-Ring, like to work hard, she loves just being on the team. Sean Klaver, '06, agrees with her: "During the season there were a lot of team bonding memories." When asked to pick one, Klaver said, "The track sleepover after the Lamphere meet was definitely one of the best." Klaver is a senior captain and a definite role model for first year members. Track and field is not just all fun and games. "The practices and the anticipation before the meets are two of the hardest parts about being on the team," said Dunaj-Ring. Overall, track is a great sport that not only helps people stay in shape, but also an awesome place to meet new people.

"Agility" Boys Varsity Tennis

"Fun, rewarding, and exhilarating" were the three words used to describe the varsity tennis team by William Peltier, '07. The year was quite overwhelming for the tennis team, considering that they moved up one whole division. For those who do not understand the level of difficulty, moving up a division is a whole new level of competition. Many obstacles were overcome, but together they pulled through the adversity that they faced.

Influenced greatly by his father and fellow Dondero teammates, Gregory Martini, '08, described the tennis team as very cohesive. The hard-working, well bonded team accomplished so much together but also a lot individually. The season became a lot easier with the leadership that existed throughout. The underclassmen were very impressed by the leadership skills that the upperclassmen displayed, along with their experienced form and technique that they modeled for their younger teammates.

"Championship" Girls Varsity Soccer

Overcoming adversity says a lot about a person, or in this case an entire team. The girls varsity soccer team was plagued with many injuries this past season, but they always seemed to persevere, eventually becoming only the second girls soccer team in school history to win districts. "With so many good teams in this area, it felt rewarding to come out on top," said sweeper Rebecca Young, '06.

The Oaks made it look easy, but a lot of players had to step up their game after injuries sidelined returners Brittany Zuzindlak, '05, Morgan Gardner, '06, and Rachel Rosenbach, '06, for the majority of the season. "We had so many injuries this year. It made the season very challenging," said forward Jeanne Pingle, '07.

The Oaks never surrendered and had a very successful season.

"Precision" Girls Varsity Golf

Golf is a sport, unlike any other. You must push yourself at a high level, both physically and mentally, and cannot depend on a team to carry you to victory. "All the pressure is on your shoulders, and when you succeed, it makes the win much more gratifying," said Abigail Norling, '05, one of only two Dondero students on the combined team.

Every week you must disregard your previous accomplishments and prepare for the upcoming match. "Golf is a funny game. You might shoot good one day, and terrible the next. You're only as good as your score shows," said Norling. Mental toughness is what keeps these players on the course for hours everyday, critiquing their game inch by inch. "When you win, you know that you earned it," said Ericka Sestok, '05.

"Success"

Boys Varsity Baseball

A solid core of extremely talented baseball players led the Oaks to a successful season this year. Almost every person on the team had been playing baseball for a minimum of ten years, and that definitely helped strengthen the team in more than one way. Nicholas Johnson, '06, said "The wisdom, hard work, and strength of the team is what shaped us."

Another strong player for the Dondero Oaks Varsity Baseball Team was Brad Beisiegel, '07, who had an excellent season and is very excited for the last year of Dondero High School. Watching baseball ever since he was little, Beisiegel has always wanted to play baseball after high school. His hopes for the future are to pursue a career in baseball, and playing for Dondero took him a couple steps closer to that goal. After the 2005 season, the team graduated all their seniors and the remaining players are Johnson and Beisiegel. Next season is going to have a young team, but that will not stop them from achieving so much and going above and beyond.

"Determination" Girls Varsity Softball

Foul ball, strike one. Swing and a miss, strike two. Swing and a base hit up the middle. "This girl is slow, I can hit her," is the mentality of Jackie Brown, '06, as her batters walked up to the plate for each at bat. This season was definitely a challenge for the team, but they didn't give up and improved tremendously over the course of the season.

Brown, a three year varsity player, and freshman starter Katelyn Zlotek, '08, were both really looking forward to next season and improving their own game as well as growing as a team. There seems to be one very important goal on the girls' minds: to beat the crosstown rival, Kimball, for the final Dondero softball season. "We can kill them and show them we're a better team," said two year varsity player, Devon Park, '07. The Lady Oaks have much confidence and determination to win games and are going to work hard to have a successful season.

Playing for a different school with different coaches and teammates from a different area can be very challenging, but the Dondero players seem to be fine with the newly combined team from Kimball. Most of the players have played in the past. Being on the team takes a lot of skill and talent, so the past experience helps a lot. "I played for Keller Middle School both in seventh and eighth grade," said Matthew Rosenbach, '08. A typical practice includes stretching, drills, scrimmages, and conditioning, but the games are what all players look forward to.

Freshman Football

As ninth graders, freshman football players already have a hard time adjusting to high school, but these players have to adjust to two different high schools, creating an even harder time. However, players such as, Tyler Howell, '09, enjoy playing for a different school. "The teamwork and excitement that happens during the games is the best part about playing football," said Howell. All of the freshmen players are striving for future varsity letters at the Royal Oak High School. It's a good way to keep in shape and be active during the school year.

No matter what position the girls played on the court, everyone had a good time encouraging each other in hopes of achieving a victory. Most of the junior varsity volleyball players had been playing volleyball ever since middle school. "I'm glad that I was pushed to try out for volleyball; it is a lot of fun and a great sport to play," said Devon Park, '07. As a first-year captain, Park tried her hardest to show support for the other girls. Teammate, Amanda Diamond, '08, enjoyed playing with everyone, but had to admit that it can be quite difficult at times. "In order to do well in the matches and tournaments, we have to endure a lot of hard work-outs," said Diamond. To sum it up, the successful junior varsity volleyball team knows what they need to do to be able to come out on top.

This year's J.V. boys basketball team had a very tough season. They worked very hard throughout the whole season, and their goal was to just improve their individual games and grow as a team. Jacob Yates, '08, described this season as "Tough love." Yates loves the game of basketball and has been playing the game for about four years now. He concentrated on making smart decisions and just playing the game. In practice, the team did a lot of conditioning: they ran over plays to stay in shape, got faster, and bettered themselves for each and every game. These boys played hard all season, never gave up, and always played to win.

This year's junior varsity boys hockey season was rough. They worked hard, had fun, and that's what was most important. In practice, they worked on improving their game as much as possible by doing shooting drills, passing drills and just skating. Scott Olinski, '09 said, "My goal this year is to make it to play-offs, score a few goals and win a few games." Olinski has been playing hockey for nine years and loves playing the game. Andrew Barber, '07, said, "I'm concentrating on getting in better shape and working hard to get good enough to make varsity." Although the team had a tough season, they improved as a whole. The JV boys soccer team had a fairly successful season. This team was full of very talented and experienced players. Dondero had only two players from the combined team: Stephen Longe, '08, who has been playing soccer for ten years, and Chad Donovan, '08, who has been playing for eight years, which shows that there are many levels of experience on this team. Practices consisted of various drills, runs, and scrimmages to get into real game situations. To better their game even more, they scrimmaged and trained with the varsity team. To get ready before the games, the team talked about strategies, just relaxed, and listened to their C.D. players while thinking about what had to be done to win the game.

"Aggressive" Junior Varsity Girls Soccer

Last year's JV girls soccer team had an overall good season. In order to win games, they needed to put in a lot of hard work at practice. The practices consisted of many drills to improve technique and ball-handling skills. Also, each day they alternated long distance run or sprints. A few of the girls had some personal goals that they wanted to achieve by the end of the season. "I just wanted to play more aggressively and improve my game," said Michelle Fabry, '08. "I wanted to get through the whole game without getting subbed. I didn't have much endurance, which improved over the season," said Ashley Bourke, '07. Both of these girls achieved their goals, and the team improved and bonded as one.

"Preparation" Junior Varsity Baseball

Playing for a new coach can be tough, but the JV baseball players made the transition with ease. Coach Jeff Cooley took over the squad, receiving leadership help from captains, Gary Buck, '07, and Daniel Stasiak, '07. The team worked hard to ready themselves for possible varsity play next year.

Led by seven sophomores, the JV ended their season 7-9. "My highlight to the season was watching Gary Buck hit a home run. It was funny to watch him run all that way," said Joseph Stanichuk, '08. Other high points to the season were a big win over Waterford Kettering and hard a fought win over Stoney Creek.

"Most of the players on the team grew up playing in the Royal Oak Sandlot League," said Buck. This baseball background is the reason for the knowledge of the game that these players possess, and for the future varsity play they have in their sights.

"Tough" Junior Varsity Softball

The term "softball" seems to do an injustice to the players of this grueling game. There is nothing soft about this sport, nor of the girls that play it.

The girl's junior varsity softball team finished the year with a one win season but never gave up or complained about the situation. Coach Scheid repeatedly pushed the girls very hard and demanded the best out of them, but a lack of experience served as a hardship for the Oaks. "We only had three sophomores on the team. We were basically a freshman team and didn't have a lot of experience," said co-captain Katelyn Ather, '07.

The players realize that they struggled this year and look to up their games in years to come.

Outstanding Varsity Athletes

By: Abigail Petri

Boys Golf

James Uelmen, '06, and Nicholas Johnson, '06, were both extraordinary golfers for their team all four years on varsity. They both received All OAA first team, all area dream team, and James was the recipient of player of the year nominated by the Royal Oak Daily Tribune.

- Coach S. Lynch

Football

Anthony Susin, '06, was a great competitor on the football field this past season. As difficult as Friday nights became, Tony kept his competitive spirit, played with great sportsmanship, and was determined to do his best. That is a success that made all his coaches very proud to have coached him. Anthony received all area dream team, MVP and special team player of the year just to name a few.

- Coach J. Fitzpatrick

Girls Basketball

Abigail Petri, '06, was a threat on the basketball court since she stepped into Dondero High School. Playing all four years on Varsity, Petri was a great defender and a huge key to the offense being leading scorer three year in a row. Abigail was all league honorable mention her junior year and all area her senior year. She was a captain for three out of the four years here at Dondero and being a leader was what shes best at.

- Coach W Gergosian

Baseball

Nicholas Johnson, '06 has been a pitcher for the varsity baseball team for the past two years. He is one of the captains for this year's team. He is dedicated, hard working, and has a love for baseball. He is the kind of athlete that coaches like to have on the team. He is competitive and loves to win. It has been a great experience coaching him.

- Coach J. Dinkelman

Girls Cross Country

Sydney Walsh, '06, captain and senior, contributed a great deal to the girls cross-country team for the past three years. She is a positive role model to the other athletes on the team, and was a very approachable captain. Her contributions to the team are numerous as she was All-League two years in a row. She always give 110% at practice and at the meets.

- Coach K. Hoover

Girls Tennis

Meghan Luzod, '06 has been a varsity tennis player for four years, in the 1 Singles position. She is all league, all region, a scholar athlete, and on the Dream Team. Meghan was undefeated in the league this year and seated 2nd place in regionals. She has been voted MVP all for years and has had more wins than anyone at Dondero.

Boys Cross Country

Sean Klaver, '06, is a natural leader, which made him an outstanding captain. Sean was determined to maintain the traditions of Dondero and make the last year of the Dondero boys cross country team worthy of those traditions. He ran a personal best of 17:43 in the OAA Division III meet at Murphy Park in Pontiac to earn All-League honors.

- Coach D. Barnett

Dance

Kristen Olinski, '06, and Christine Morelli, '06, have both been a critical driving force along the way to our teams historic performance. Both girls epitomize the image of a team captain who perform flawlessly in her sports, who is tirelessly committed to the teams goals, and who inspires her teammates to work for perfection as well.

- Coach H. Wieferich

Girls Swim and Dive

Alexandria O'Hara, '06, was the Dondero Girls swimming and diving team's most outstanding diver in 2005. Ali accomplished so much in the 2005 season alone such as, in dual meets she placed first twice, second four times, and third twice. She took third place at the OAA Division III Championships, she qualified for the diving regional, and has all around been a hard worker for 3 years on the Varsity swimming and diving team.

- Coach R. Schurig

Boys Swimming

Daniel Lewan, '06, is a four year varsity swimmer. He was a captain his senior year and a two time all conference swimmer. Dan was also a member of top 10 club in 200 medley relay and 50 free style.

- Coach D. Millar

Boys Basketball

Alex Keith, '06, was a leader on and off the court for the boys Varsity Basketball team. Alex has been playing on varsity for 2 years now and has done nothing but excel and grow as a player. The development of this young man is truly outstanding. He was a captain this year and also leading scorer for the team.

- Coach W. Gergosian

Wrestling

Alex Fike, '06, is the only senior from Dondero on the Royal Oak Wrestling team. He has been on the team for four years and served as team captain his sophomore year. Alex underwent extensive knee surgery last year, but pushed himself through the season and continues to rehabilitate. He made it to the district level this year.

Volleyball

AlexSaundra Hamm, '06, has been a starter for the Oaks varsity volleyball team for the past three years. She was named All-Leauge OAA in 2004 & 2005 and All-State honorable mention in 2005. She is currently one of the teams captains hoping to lead the team to another leauge and district championship like last year.

- Coach H. Leidy

Track & Field

Graduates David Caddy, '05, and Amber Stratton, '05 were outstanding athletes in track. As captains, these two students were very responsible, never missing practices or meets, and always did what was asked of them. Both team members ran hurdles and the 4X400.

- Coach C. Steele

Softball

Jackie Brown, '06, is a three year varsity starter. She is one of our captains because of her hard work, leadership, and dedication. She is an all leauge, all district catcher and to top it all off she is on the academic all state team.

- Coach V. Earnshaw

Girls Golf

Erika Sestok (former graduate) was MVP and captain. She played golf all four years and was the first girl since we started girls golf to letter all four years. She was voted to the All-Leauge team in the OAA and finished 8th in the Oakland County tournament. She was an amazing golfer and will be remembered for her skill and team leadership.

- Coach V. Caruso

Gymnastics

Jamie Skewes, '06, is a hardworking, dependable, and pleasant person in the classroom as well as in the gymnastics arena. She has competed on the Royal Oak gymnastics team for 4 years. Whenever Jamie is presented with a challenge, she rises to the occasion. This year she is a team captain and a regional qualifier.

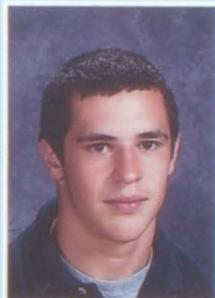

- Coach C. Ewell

Hockey

James Rex, '06, is a leader on and off the ice. He leads by example and does everything that the coaches ask of him. James is a prime example of what a student athlete should be, a very nice student to promote Dondero High School.

- Coach A. Plasky

Boys Soccer

James Rex, '06, is an outstanding player on the field and at practice. He is a mentor and role model for the younger players. James led his team in scoring and assists. He has also received many awards for soccer on his behalf including most valuable player.

- Coach J. Worrel

Girls Soccer

Marky Jenkins, '06, and Allison Septer, '06, were both four year Varsity starters. Marky was a strong quiet defensive leader who comes ready to play every game.

Marky was all leauge, all district, all regional, all state 3rd team, and all area first team. Allison was a strong, explosive offensive leader who could break open a game at any time with her speed. Allison received all leauge, all district, and all area first team.

Choir - Michael Farr and Robert Schurig

Michael Farr has been in choir for three years as a member of both A Cappella and Musical Minority. He is an excellent tenor in both groups and is one of the best electric bass players for Pop Concert. He participates in many solos as a bass player, giving hours of preparation time for other singers in the choir. He is a totally positive force in the choir room and on stage.

Robert Schurig has been in choir for all four years as a member of both A Cappella Choir and Musical Minority. He is very capable and can sing BOTH tenor and bass. As the Choir President, Max works as hard as anyone ever could to make choir and the concerts involved the best they can be.

-Rick Hartsoe

Marketing - Jessica Toner

Jessica Toner is part of our business and marketing program. She was accepted to Dondero's School to Work Cooperative Program working for the Royal Oakland Community Credit Union. Her employer has described her as exhibiting outstanding work values - punctuality, accuracy, and dependability.

-Nanci Marek

Genesis - Celina Maggi

Celina Maggi (or is it Maggical?) is an extraordinary student and a spectacular human. Simply stated, Cheli is one of the best people I have ever known. Her spirit brightens those around her; her dedication and effort are absolute; she is honest, trustworthy, kind, funny, and totally reliable. I will miss her not only as an Editor-in-Chief but as a person who made each day better.

- Perry Cicchini

German - Stephen Burwell

Stephen Burwell has consistently been at the top of his class due to his conscientious attitude and devotion to the German language. Stephen studied hard for four years of outstanding progress and has been a model student to his classmates. He is well-liked and respected by all. Stephen has proven himself not only as a bright and studious student of German, but as a responsible and mature young man.

- G. Monty Weathers

WOAK - James Semivan

I would like to nominate James Semivan as an outstanding senior for his role as WOAK Advanced Video and Media Production student and as my Coop Technical Assistant. James is responsible and creative, accepts and takes on tasks in a professional and workmanlike manner. James will be competing in the upcoming Michigan SkillsUSA competition in the video production category and shooting for a chance to represent Michigan in the national finals.

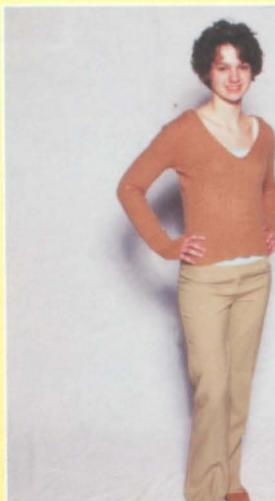

- Dick Rockwell

English - Alix Kowalski

Thoughtful, intelligent, principled, passionate, curious - Alix Kowalski is all of these. I've watched her wrestle with Conrad and Ellison, tackle the absurdities of Heller and Freud, and play with the deconstructions of Murakami and de-colonizing of Achebe. Alix latches on to idea, turns ideas around until they match and yet conflict; her frustration and delight sometimes merge as she reconciles the oppositions of her life and the world she encounters. Her poise and enthusiasm, her greatest moments of engaging others in dialogue that leaves them warm and enlightened - these are moments of human strength.

-Steve Chisnell

French

Alix Kowalski is truly an outstanding senior. Alix is a conscientious student dedicated to French beyond expectations. Her optimism and positive attitude have helped her achieve all A's and improve the level of achievement around her. She consistently works hard and has demonstrated exceptional commitment to the study of French with her contagious enthusiasm. Alix's dedication, intelligence, and excellent work make her truly deserving of recognition as an outstanding French student.

-Cherilyn Ross-Blair

Band - Michael Farr

Michael Farr has played an integral roll in all of our performing ensembles in band, orchestra, and choir. Mike demonstrates a natural ability, and his enthusiasm to learn and create is contagious. Mike will be very successful as he goes forth to continue his musical training and experiences.

-Tim Foreman

Orchestra - Catherine Nicolia

Catherine Nicolia is a member of the Dondero Symphony Orchestra, Fiddle Club, Chamber Music Club, and actively performs outside of school on her violin with the Oakland Youth Orchestra. Catherine is a dedicated student who loves music. She is the Vice-President of the Symphony Orchestra, and Concertmistress of the Symphony Orchestra as well. Often, Catherine leads sectionals where she teaches the violins how to perform a particular portion of music, all for the sake of our group sounding better. As is evident in this article, Catherine is a special student, musician and person. She will achieve many successes in her future. Her musical legacy will live on in Royal Oak for years to come.

Acorn - Brianna English and Autumn Kangas

Her intellect, passion, drive and cooperative spirit were signs early on that Brianna English would make an ideal editor in chief of Acorn. This year, she serves ably and nobly in that role. Brianna is at the very center of our publication process, and I trust her actions, her leadership, and her work. Her investment and consistency have been central to the quality and success of our newsmagazine.

Her integrity, intuition, compassion and wisdom insure that Autumn Kangas speaks strongly in every day. Flexible, affable and inquisitive, she thrives in cooperative ventures, and establishes a comfortable, earnest rapport with remarkable quickness and ease. In her presence, people feel safe, comfortable and valued. Autumn is a steady, shaping force in our publication.

-Ann Maudlin

Science - Autumn Kangas

Autumn Kangas has consistently established herself as an Outstanding Science Student. The quality of both her written work and her participation in class is unparalleled. She has chosen to challenge herself by participating in the Advance Placement program completing both AP Biology and AP Physics. She is a leader not because of her words, but through her actions and the example she sets. Congratulations to Autumn

-Betsy Mackowiak

OAK - Elise Androkites

From its very conception to its final word, the Dondero Oak yearbook is evidence of the outstanding work of Elise Androkites. As this year's editor-in-chief, Elise has been an inspirational leader to an excellent staff. Imaginative, passionate, ambitious, and responsible, Elise is one of the finest editors I have ever known. She is a marvel both behind the scenes and at the forefront of the publication process, and though she takes her position very seriously, she brings a much needed element of humor to our environment as well. Elise Androkites is truly an exceptional young woman, and a bright future awaits her.

Drama - Elise Androkites

Elise is truly a well-rounded member of the Dondero Drama Club. She participates with energy in all aspects of theatre production, including acting, set building, painting, program, advertising and serves as the club's President.

Social Studies - Sean Klaver

Sean Klaver is the outstanding senior for reasons beyond his exemplary grades in all his social studies classes. His interest in history has driven Sean to an extraordinary level of accomplishment in Dondero's social studies department. Sean has consistently demonstrated the reason why social studies is a significant discipline of study: an appreciation of our past and an awareness of important events in the present that will shape our future. Sean's keen interest in history is at a level that sets him apart from his classmates: not many high school students across the country can claim to have visited the home of former President Garfield on purpose.

-Alec Snyder

Business - Meghan Wlotkowski

Meghan Wlotkowski is always accepting additional responsibilities in addition to the required class work; for example, she assists other students and takes the initiative to look for additional assignments. Furthermore, Meghan currently maintains the accounting records for Dondero's Bagel sales. Without her assistance, the ordering, billing and general flow of work would not happen.

-Nanci Marek

All photos by: Prestige Portraits

Spanish - Morgan Gardner

Morgan Gardner is a good Spanish student and very motivated in the Spanish classroom. She was always committed to taking four years and has earned all A's and B's throughout the four years of study. She is bright and is always willing to help her classmates. She is very positive in class and understands the value of knowing a second language. She was also very creative as she worked on several projects. It has been a pleasure to have her in my classes. I am sure she will succeed in whatever she pursues.

- Bertha Arribas

Mathematics - Evan Kangas

In my time at Dondero, Evan Kangas may be the best math student I have seen. With extremely high marks, he completed all of our curriculum by the end of his junior year. This in and of itself sets him apart as Dondero's outstanding math student. However, he has taken it even farther during his senior year with his studies of Calculus three at the college level. Through all of this, he has assumed a reticent position of leader by example in his classes, which all subsequently collectively benefited from his contributions. In short, he has achieved greatly, and we have benefited greatly for these efforts.

- Sam Lynch

Senate and Mathematics - James Rex

James Rex has been an amazing example of how much hard work and dedication can pay off. He has done nothing but succeed in the field of mathematics for the last four years, achieving all the way up to the level of AP Calculus as a senior. He has also proved time and time again that he is a student leader in the classroom, giving the kind effort every day that would allow any student to succeed.

- Matt Milazzo

James Rex has led our team impeccably! Be it his integrity, sense of responsibility, commitment to people, or his incredible energy, all in Senate have been influenced by his presence. James has a phenomenal leadership resume, both formally and informally. He has, in four years, attended close to 10 intense leadership development seminars and has held three elected Senate positions: general member, parliamentarian, and president. People who know James respect and admire him, and understandably so! He is truly one of the finest young men to walk these halls!

- Kim Martin

Art - Cameron Lamberti

Cameron Lamberti is a talented and dedicated artist! He challenges himself daily as he explores ideas and refines techniques through painting, printmaking, drawing and sculpture. In addition, he heads up fundraising for the Art Club. At home, he pursues his passion by participating in extra art experiences. A gifted and self-motivated individual, it is no surprise that Cam is interested in an art-related career. With his visual intelligence and organizational skills, he will surely be very successful!

“Quiet”

Think about this: how would it feel starting your day off with one of the most dreaded classes of your high school career, and on top of that, making it advanced placement. Well, Mr. Vought's first hour Advanced Placement Statistics students don't seem to mind. Spotting trends, relative frequency and percentages are just some of the many ways they start off their days. “It's a great class to take if you want to learn about real life situations,” said Kyle Resto, '07, who really enjoys learning the challenging information that goes along with it. “Only six problems of homework a night, that's great for an advanced placement class!” said Meghan Luzod, '06, who preferred statistics over calculus. One of the other things that made this class so worthwhile is the teacher, Mr. Vought, who everybody agrees is an awesome teacher. He has been teaching at Dondero for two years, and you will often find him saying the word “QUIET” in his class room. “Staying at least one day ahead of the kids is the hardest part of teaching,” said Mr. Vought. “My favorite thing about teaching this class is how it gives the students a chance to explore college material.” This class is definitely challenging, but it is worth it.

“Please” 2nd hour English

“What’s in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet” (Shakespeare’s Romeo and Juliet). What most refer to as “Lit and Comp,” Ms. Gardy’s second hour Literature and Composition has a wide range of students from freshmen to seniors. Even with such a variety of ages, Emily Jarman, ’09, and Julia Lester, ’09, agree: “They are really not that different, I mean, they are students in the same class as me.” Many students said that reading short stories was by far the best thing they had done this year. When asked what her favorite part of teaching was, Ms. Gardy said, “Every day the students remind me why I am a teacher. Their creativity and energy teach me things I have not learned yet, and I love it!” Every teacher is unique in his or her own way. Ms. Gardy brings her uniqueness to a whole different level. Ms. Gardy said, “‘=Please’ is my most frequently used word. It seems to sound more pleasant if you say it in the beginning of a sentence.” Although this class may sound easy, in no way is it.

Business and Technology

The sound of typing fills the room as Mrs. Marek’s third hour Computer Applications and Business class is busy with their work. “Mrs. Marek makes this class the jam,” said junior Timothy Casey, ’07, who enjoyed this class because all the work that they did involved computers. Some of the material this class covered was Word Processing and Power Point. “I love Mrs. Marek, and this is my favorite class of the day,” said Daniel Stasiak, ’07. They agree that the hardest material they had covered had been Power Point, but they both found this class very challenging and practical.

The ladies of the Media Center also contribute highly to the technology here at Dondero. Mrs. Ong and Ms. Caughell are extremely hard workers, and know how to put their skills to use. “I absolutely love the students that come in and read the newspaper in our big yellow chairs. You could tell that the news was very interesting to them,” said Mrs. Ong. Where would our technology at Dondero be if they were not here?

Social Studies

Immigrants, Presidents, World War II, The 60's, The Depression, and Civil Rights. These are just some of the many topics that Mr. Fitzpatrick's fourth hour U.S. history class has covered over the course of this year. "This class gives you knowledge of what happened before our generation," said Lauren Fromm, '09. Many people who did not get enjoyment from history class gained enjoyment from the teaching methods of Mr. Fitzpatrick. "He has a way of teaching that really draws you in," said freshman Samantha McHugh, '09. He has many energetic and creative ways to make the class interesting such as movies, and Jeopardy review games.

“They’re tiny and they’re teeny, much smaller than a beanie, they never can be seenie, ‘The Atoms’ Family,’ ” sings Mr. McMann’s fifth hour Chemistry class. “I loved being in this class because of all the fun labs and experiments we did,” said Ryan Updike, ’07. “I really enjoyed Mr. McMann and how he was so laid back,” said Jeanne Pingle, ’07. This is Mr. McMann’s third year teaching at Dondero, and he especially loves teaching Chemistry. You will often find him saying the word “quizzie-poo” and talking about his beloved yardstick named “Benno.” “I love teaching at Dondero because of all the fun that the students and I have together; we share a special bond,” said Mr. McMann. “The best part of my day was coming into fifth hour and stealing ‘Little Ray-Ray,’ ” said Updike. ‘Little Ray-Ray’ is not only the fifth hour mascot, he is Mr. McMann’s wooden straw reindeer that was brought over to Dondero from his house. Experiments such as flame tests, tie-dying, and silver coating bottles were just some of the things that the Chemistry classes at Dondero covered over the course of the year.

Fourth Year French

“Crazy” 6th hour

“Bonjour” is a basic friendly way of saying “hello” in French, but the students in Mrs. Ross-Blair’s sixth hour, fourth year French class already knew that. Being so advanced comes with its difficulties. “I never realized how much work actually goes into speaking French, but I have to say that I really do love it.” said Keegan Springfield, ’06.

Along with French, which has two teachers, Mrs. Ross-Blair and brand new, Mrs. Landgraf, there are two other languages being offered. Those languages are: Spanish, that is taught by Senora Arribas, and German, which is taught by Herr Weathers. These classes offer a variety of new things to students, which will come in handy when they are off at college making a life for themselves.

It is recommended to have two years of a foreign language in high school; most students take these classes their freshman and sophomore year. “It is easier to get it out of the way, but in my case, I really wanted to learn about France and their culture, so I have decided to stay in this class since freshman year,” said Springfield.

Remember that with each year taken of a language, the work will get harder, but it will pay off in the long run.

"Sweat" Physical Education

Physical Education is a must in order to graduate. The sweat and toil poured into exercising every day can be quite exhausting, especially when you have a long term substitute to watch over your every move. Physical Education teacher, Mr. Burr took a leave, which brought in his sub, Mr. Watchowski. Alissa Jones, '09, said, "It is harder when we have a sub because he does not really know us, but I think that Mr. W is really sweet!" With six weeks of health and six weeks of swimming, these kids do not have to spend all of their time in the gym. As for the games that they play, Justin Owens, '09, said that his favorite was basketball. "I just like basketball because I think that I am good at it, and maybe Mr. W will show me some things to make me better." While Chelsea Phillips, '09, said that her favorite was when they played tennis outside. "I just like playing tennis, because all though it seems easy, you really do have to put a lot of effort into it." When asked what one word would best summarize Physical Education, Mr. Watchowski said, "Sweat" only because we have so many kids and when they are running around for fifty minutes and then we all go downstairs, all you see are sweat drops and all you smell is body odor; it reminds me once again why I am doing this."

Art

Painting, sculpting, drawing, printing. Students use their creative skills in art class. "Art class is a way for me to express myself," said Autumn Fromm, '07, who has been in art class since her freshman year. Art is not an easy class. You are constantly challenged to better your skills each year by increasing not only your knowledge of frequently used terms, but by using every possible medium.

"I have been doing art ever since kindergarten and hope to have a career in it some day," said Marianna Vermiglio, '06, who is now in advanced art. Ms. Shrode's art students are introduced to new ideas through field trips to the Detroit Institute of Art, movies, text books, and by practicing these skills. "Painting and drawing are my favorite things to do, and they also happen to be what I find the easiest," said Fromm.

Many of the senior art students enter their art work in contests for scholarships. At the end of the year there is a senior art show where not only the senior art work is featured, but also the work of the underclassmen and many other students. It is something that everybody looks forward to, and it takes a lot of work to get it organized. Art is something these students do on their spare time; it is something they really enjoy and take very seriously.

Music

The familiar tune of "Do, Re, Mi, Fa, So, La, Ti, Do" is a simple part of Mixed Choir's vocal warm-up. Mr. Hartsoe, who has been the director of the choir for 39 years, said, "When I hear my students sing, I know that they are reaching far and beyond so that they can sing to their full extent." The Mixed Choir was made up of freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors, which gave the underclassmen opportunities to hear what they could sound like if they stuck in choir for the rest of high school. Lindsay Dyja, '07, said, "I love singing, it brings out something that I never knew was inside of me. My favorite thing, though, that we do as a group has to be Mini-Pop." Mini-Pop gave the chance for students in Mixed Choir to sing a song of their choice in front of the entire school and community. "It gave me such a rush inside, a rush that I love and feeds me to sing more and more," said Dyja.

With such a wide variety of ages in Mixed Choir, it is fun to get to know someone else who you may not have had gotten to know throughout the school year. Dyja also said, "Since being a junior, I enjoy making friends with the sophomores. They were really cool once I got to know them." So, now if you are ever wandering the halls during fifth hour, keep your ears open to hear the beautiful voices that Mr. Hartsoe conducts of the Mixed Choir.

Administration and Secretaries

Helping students is their passion; they look out for us like our "real mothers." Moms care for us when we are sick; our at school "moms" care for us when we have problems. In so many ways, they are similar. Our female administrative staff is similar, and that is why people describe Dondero as a home away from home. When asked what she was going to miss most when Dondero closed, Mrs. Olson said, "Most definitely the intimacy that our school has. Everyone is so close; it is like we are one big happy family." Ms. Schipper's secretary, Mrs. Roberts was kind enough to lend us her voice when asked what was her most memorable moment that she has had here at Dondero over the past years. She said, "Every graduation. Ever since my first few years here, I have participated in the graduation, and seeing the students go off on their own, knowing that we helped them along the way gives me such a warm, fuzzy feeling inside." If you are ever around the office, you will probably hear Mrs. Roberts using her favorite and most frequently used word: "Hi." She is so friendly, and that is why Dondero is like one big happy family!

They could very much be considered the 'angels' of Dondero High School due to their daily contributions that enable each student to live out his or her high school experience to the fullest.

In the beginning of the year, the counseling office was packed to capacity for schedule changes. Mrs. Laird said of the students the counselors saw, "Most of their problems were that they did not have a class for an hour, they were worried they were not going to get into the class on time, and they would always be behind, no matter how hard they tried to catch up." However, this was not the case. Brian Gregory, '07, was one of the individuals that did not have a class scheduled for his sixth hour, but luckily his counselor had an opening in Mrs. Gutierrez's sixth hour Poetry.

The school psychologist, Mrs. Sutton, has helped many individuals throughout her years here at Dondero. Mrs. Sutton said, "When students come to me with life or family problems, I try my hardest to console them and try to give them advice which would help with their situation."

The women of special education, who give their time teaching individuals are in no doubt some of the best people that this school has employed. Their main goal for the day is to help students who may not be fully capable of doing everything themselves. Mrs. Sandtveit said, "I just love teaching these students. They bring a different perspective to the world, and you can always look to them to put a smile on your face."

"Partners"

School Support

'Partners are always willing to give you a hand, through the worst of times and through the best of times. Whenever you need someone, you know that you can always count on them.

You see them patrolling the hallways, always on their toes. Sometimes, they may try to catch you skipping classes or not having a hall pass. These famous people are known as "hall guards", but we like to call them by name: Mrs. Moore, Francis and Coach Steele. If you really get to know them, you will realize that they are some of the nicest people you will ever meet here at Dondero.

The ladies of the kitchen who prepare our daily lunches are another group of people here that make Dondero a friendlier place. As a freshman or sophomore, you see these ladies five times a week; as a junior or senior, you may see them when you stay in.

Whenever a locker gets jammed or we need assistance setting up for an event, we can always count on the custodians of our school to be there. They are probably the most important aspect of our school. Without them, we would not be able to open up our learning environment.

Whenever you see any of these people around school, make sure that you always put on a happy face to match theirs.

"Dedication" Publications

Dondero plays host to three student-organized publications: "Oak," yearbook; "Acorn," newsmagazine; and "Genesis," creative arts magazine. To be a part of any publications staff, you need key qualities such as being a team player, organized and tenacious. Each publication has its own significant purpose and plays its own part in remembering Dondero in future years.

Yearbook is an organization composed of juniors and seniors (with the exception of one sophomore.) Mrs. Kocis oversaw the class along with the editors, Elise Androkites, '06, Kristin Flanigan, '06, Jamie Skewes, '06, and Kristen Olinski, '06. The class has an independent atmosphere and everyone did their own thing to get their job done. "I was very impressed by the consistent effort and creativity of my staff members," said Mrs. Kocis.

Acorn, the monthly newsmagazine, is advised by Ms. Maudlin. Brianna English, '06, and Autumn Kangas, '06, were the editors this year. This class was made up of all upper-classmen with the exception of one sophomore, Jillian Rodriguez, '08. Most of the members joined because it was a great way to get their opinions about things going on in the community and all around the world quickly publicized.

Art, music, poetry, photography, and writing are the elements that make up the school's creative arts magazine, Genesis. It is released to the public and student body at the end of the year. Mr. Cicchini supervises the staff and gives guidance. Editor-in-chief, Celina Maggi, '06 put a lot of hard work into making this publication a great success. "Genesis is such a unique publication; its awesome," says Lisa Martin, '06.

If Rayna Ketchum, '06, could describe Writers Club with one word she would say “creative.” Every Wednesday, Writers Club members meet to write and discuss each other’s writing. The club allows its members to use their creativity. The members in Writers Club loved to talk to each other and get ideas, especially from their club adviser Ms. Gardy. Even outside of Writers Club, members still write. Tabitha Kronewetter, '06, has finished a 100 page story and a 300 page novel and still is working on some other writings of hers. She hopes to be published one day. Ketchum said, “Before Writers Club I still wrote, but Writers Club is very important for those individuals that need a place to sit in quiet and be inspired by their peers.”

Leadership Student Senate

Senate is not just sitting around playing cards and socializing with your friends, it's hard work too. Senators from all grades are in charge of all the school activities that we participate in. They make all the decorations around the school, they organize all the dances, they spend numerous hours of work planning pep assemblies, and they fund-raise the money for these activities all by themselves. Along with all the dances, fund-raisers, and other daily responsibilities, they are in charge of VBM (Volleyball Marathon). "We started working on the VMB project the week after Homecoming ended, and it took all that time to make it what was," said Kaitlyn Kueber, '07. Everything they did took a lot of hard work and dedication to the school and community. "This year is our last, so we wanted to make everything extra special. We wanted everything to be the best it has ever been," said four year senator Paul Buck, '06. Without Senate, our school wouldn't have organized dances, fund-raisers, Tailgate parties, and all the other fun school activities we are involved in throughout the year. Senate deserves the respect for all the extra hours they put into their work.

“Perfection” Marching Band and Color Guard

Perfection: an unsurpassable degree of accuracy or excellence

From long practices and lots of hard work, the students in marching band and color guard have a sense of accomplishment when they end their show and the whole crowd goes wild. The Dondero Marching Band and Color Guard start their rehearsals in August, and they run all the way through November. This year was the last year for marching band and color guard. At Homecoming all alumni were invited to come back and participate in the half-time show and in the parade, “It was a cool feeling to have all of the alumni back on the field again,” said Rachel Davidson, ’07. “There are a lot of emotional ups and downs in marching band. Some people take it more seriously than others, but in the end it all comes together,” said Allison Voglesong, ’07. The marching band and color guard took a lot of pride in what they accomplished this year, and they will remember it for the rest of their lives.

"Culture"

Foreign Language

Dondero's foreign language students experience different cultures by being involved with a foreign language club. Here at Dondero we have Spanish, German, and French Clubs. Vice-president of German club, Meghan Wlotkowski, '06, said she enjoys being in the club.

Her favorite thing is that they get to do different activities as a group, such as going to Frankenmuth for a day, going on group dinners, and being involved in Tailgate.

"Being in German club is a good experience; and if you enjoy speaking a foreign language, you should join a foreign language club." Third year Spanish student and treasurer of Spanish Club, Violet Niebala said, "Spanish Club has helped me with my Spanish speaking, and I have learned a lot from being in the club. It has helped me to be more comfortable speaking Spanish to other club members, and I enjoy being in the club." Spanish Club also does some activities like Tailgate and a food day at school, where students shared Spanish food with staff members. Foreign language is an important part of Dondero curriculum. Join a foreign language club to expand your knowledge in a unique way!

To the right: Richard Davis, '06, and Zachary Rudolph, '06, pose with their artwork at their side, to show everyone at Tailgate just how good their work really is.

Every Friday after school students join in room 262, not to watch the game film for their upcoming game or to get hyped up for their meet, but for Art Club. They meet to sketch, have fun, and express their feelings in ways that not many know how to: they express themselves with a pencil on sheet of paper. When Richard Davis, '06, was asked what his favorite part of Art Club was he said, "Just being there. Being able to be around other artists that care about art as much as I do." Art can be a big influence on your life. "It has made me more peaceful; it's a relief for me," said Halee Davis, '07. Art is more than a sketch on a pad of paper, it's a feeling, an expression. Art Club is time for you to finish up your project, sit around and talk with friends, or just have fun. That's what it's all about.

"Character" Drama Club

"Captain! Captain! Where is the lifeboat?! The ship is sinking!" Mrs. Harcourt screams frantically. If you saw the spring musical, you surely would remember this scene, when Mrs. Harcourt (played by Elise Androkites, '06) was convinced that there was a problem with the ship. It was dramatic and crowd-pleasing. The drama club spring performance of the comedy, Anything Goes was a success, a charming musical that took place on the ship, the S.S American. Over the course of the trip, a humorous six person love triangle develops and a wanted criminal, Public Enemy #13, got a little bit of limelight.

Try-outs were in January, and they went extremely well. The parts were picked and rehearsals started right away, running Monday through Thursday, 7:00 - 9:30p.m., and continued every week until the performance in April. "It consumed my whole life," said Melanie Adams, '08. When they weren't at the school reciting lines, running through the play, making the set or participating in dance classes, they were most likely at home memorizing the script. "It was definitely worth all the time we put into it. I gained so many valuable experiences and made a lot of new friends," said Kaitlyn Hahn, '08.

“Mystery” Drama Club Fall Play

The Drama Club Fall Play, Bone Chiller, was a clever production, a brain teaser, and a well-crafted “who-done-it.” The storyline revolved around a suspicious death and a complicated, puzzle-like will. A coincidental collection of characters was summoned to the reading of the will. There was dispute as to the reason many of them were there, for they were not relatives or even friends of the man who died. When they finally got around to reading the will, most of it was left unsolved, but little did the guests know that hidden in the will was how the man died and who his murderer was. The people had to learn to work together to solve the mystery of his will, which resulted in a comedic outcome.

“Drama Club is like a great big family; dedicating my spare time to working with them is extremely fun,” said Nicholas Yocum, '08. Sarah Rogers, '07 is on the same page as Nicholas: “It’s a good way to connect to other people, and it’s a nice learning experience.”

"We help the environment by promoting recycling throughout the school," said Amelia Anderson, '06. Dondero's GFC organized many fun activities this year, including going to the cider mill, sledding, and canoeing. They also held a coat drive during the winter to help out in the community. ## Swing Club

As one of Dondero's many clubs, Swing Club has to be considered one of the most energizing clubs in Dondero's history. Three year Swing Club member, Jordan Potter, '06 said, "There really are no competitions. Everyone just goes to have fun. It gets you prepared for Homecoming or Prom. Swing Club is so cool because you don't compete with anyone. It's just really laid back, and it feels good to be a part of the club." Starting second semester, Swing Club met every week on Thursdays after school for an hour and a half. Sometimes they were lucky enough to have visitors come and teach them some new dances. Swing Club is an important club here at Dondero because it brings people together to have fun with each other.

“It's a lot of fun to come and bowl every week with all my friends. I get to choose who I bowl with, and it is a nice friendly atmosphere,” said Edward Dillow, '06. Bowling Club is fun for everyone to hang out with their friends and joke around while enjoying a little competition as well. Bowling Club is actually a league. There are 14 teams in this league (three people per team), so there are quite a few bowlers.

Bowling Team, on the other hand, is quite competitive. The team bowls against nine other schools at a different bowling alley every week. They played in tournaments throughout the year, including regionals, and some qualified for States. “I just hoped this year would be as good as last year, I really hoped I would win States again,” said James Uelmen, '06, (last year's reigning State Champion). The girls Bowling Team made a great improvement this last year and hope to continue to be strong. Bowling Team had a very successful year. # "Peace!" Model United Nations

This year here at Dondero we have a really involved Model United Nations. They are in charge of the UNICEF fund-raisers, and they raised a lot of money for this charity this year. Model UN has also traveled a lot around the world as a club. They have been to Costa Rica, San Francisco, Denmark, Norway, and New York along with many other great places.

Stephanie Smith, '06, the Secretary General of the Model UN said, "Model UN is a very important club here at Dondero for me and everyone that is involved in it. Everyone that is involved in it are all very close to each other, and they enjoy it and take the club seriously. Everyone really gets into what the club is all about."

Model UN was combined with Kimball this year. They met every Monday after school, alternating between buildings. This allowed students from both high schools to become acquainted with each other.

Human Relations Advisory Council

Solution:

the method or process of solving a problem

To the right: Maria Jucha, '07, looks very excited as she writes down the ideas for the group's thoughts on fund-raising.

Dondero has a very unique student body, a student body that doesn't look at other people and judge them by what they wear and who they hang around with. They know no one is perfect. However, the few problems that did arise this year were addressed by the Human Relations Advisory Council. This group of students, otherwise known as HRAC, mediated conflicts and promoted a positive school climate. “To solve issues, we sit down and discuss the problems that come up. We then try to resolve them in ways that benefit the entire student body,” said HRAC Co-Chair Maria Jucha, '07. This year, HRAC's biggest project was “Challenge Day,” a school-wide forum aimed at discussing issues such as diversity and acceptance. Eighty Dondero students and twenty Kimball students were involved in this nationally renowned program. People may not realize how much work HRAC does and how involved the group is in addressing issues at Dondero. HRAC has come up with great solutions to problems. “We hope to eliminate conflicts and make the transition to Royal Oak High School smooth,” said Jucha.

Band & Orchestra

The Band and Orchestra program is one of the many important elements that makes Dondero a great school. It brings musically inclined people together into an environment where they can learn to create and perfect art.

They have three to four performances a year in which they play a great variety of compositions. Their first performance was the Winter Concert around mid-December. Due to the combining of the schools, many changes had to be made to the performing arts department. Usually A Cappella Choir and Symphony Orchestra combine for the first concert, and they perform selected songs together. This year they presented their hard work over the past few months during separate concerts. Symphony and Concert Orchestra combined this year as well. "The Orchestra is more cooperative this year, and we work more closely," said Catherine Nicolia, '06. Matthew Palm, '08, agrees. "It's pretty laid-back, and everyone gets along."

“Elite” A Cappella and Musical Minority

Elite:
a group of persons who by virtue of position or education exercise much power or influence; the best of a class

“Harmony and understanding, sympathy and trust abounding, no more falsehoods or derisions. Golden living dreams of visions, mystic crystal revelation and the minds true liberation. Aquarius! Aquarius!” It is a tradition of the A Cappella choir to sing “Aquarius” from the musical “Hair” every year at Pop Concert. “Pop concert is probably one of the sweetest things ever. Sure, it’s challenging, but it’s an amazing experience that even people outside of choir can “tune into.” Anyone can team up and share their mad instrumental skills,” said Christine Jacobs, ’08. A great deal of time is put into making it work. “I was pretty much married to Pop Concert starting at the end of December to the performance in March,” said John Norander, ’08. A Cappella is the only elective class offered at Dondero that you must pass a challenging ten page test to get into it. After passing the test into A Cappella, you can also go on to audition for an even more elite singing group, Musical Minority. “It’s great being able to sing more advanced music out of school with such a select group,” said Michael Farr, ’06. The instructor of both groups, Mr. Hartsoe, will be retiring at the end of this year with the closing of Dondero. Christina Martoni, ’06, said “Mr. Hartsoe is one of the most incredible people I have ever met.”

"Devotion" Robotics

Football players, former technology students, and the naturally talented: Robotics is composed of all kinds of students. The robotics team constructs robots to perform a variety of tasks. Along with being a wonderful after school activity and a good learning experience, Robotics is also a very good time. "Doing hands-on work is great, and everyone is very dedicated. All of that makes Robotics a lot of fun," said Sarah Hopkins, '08. The robotics team works harder than many other clubs or team in the school. They are at school until at least eight o'clock every night, and some members sacrifice their Saturdays as well. The robotics instructor, Mr. Goszdinski, does the work with the students, teaching them how to work with all of the different machines and how to build a robot. He is a big influence on his students. The Robotics Team is full of talented individuals working together to make something amazing. All the hours of work they put in this year have paid off. The robotics team will be recognized and honored throughout our school, as they are by all the schools they go up against in their competitions.

"We're not metaphors."

"I know," I say. "But metaphors help eliminate what separates you and me."

A faint smile comes to her as she looks up at me. "That's the oddest pickup line I've ever heard."

"There're a lot of odd things going on—but I feel like I'm slowly getting closer to the truth."

"Actually getting closer to a metaphorical truth? Or metaphorically getting closer to an actual truth? Or maybe they supplement each other?"

"Either way, I don't think I can stand the sadness I feel right now," I tell her.

"I feel the same way."

You have all not only met my expectations, but exceeded them. Last year's senior class was celebrated for its strength and activity, and you 10 stepped up to flawlessly continue that legacy of investment, influence, and impact.

Collectively as a group, you offer countless amounts of leadership experience, energy, inclusiveness, empathy, and joy. Individually, you each brought a distinct gift to the program.

Mitch, I am glad you joined the team this year. You are always ready and willing to help out, and what is even better is that you do it with genuine care and interest. Tony, as a first year member, you took initiative like a veteran. What a wonderful example you set for others—you are thoughtful, proactive, and kind-spirited. Thank you for making Senate better than it was before you came. Meghan, you are sweet and warm – such a lady! I have really enjoyed our walks and talks (retreat). Many aspire to be as smart and talented as you – never forget to celebrate yourself. Morgan, you have brought the much-needed energy and charisma to the program. You have the rare ability to motivate and mobilize others, and to make people happy. I thank you for your genuine commitment to others. Jackie, your skills and organization have held this organization together. Your constant commitment to Senate for four years has been valuable, and the example you have set for others has raised the bar for our members. Paul, you are our steady beacon. You are a man of high integrity and strong moral character – you set the best example for others. Thank you for being so consistently kind and good. Dan, your knowledge about the inner-workings of Senate is second-to-none. You are one person I have depended on for....most everything. I thank you for stepping up and taking control of our budget – your shoes will be difficult to fill. Sean, you bring the much-needed humor and ease to the program. Your sense of confidence and collectiveness really inspires us all to not take life too seriously. James, you inspire us all to be better people. Be it in the classroom (scholarship), on the soccer field (athletics), at home as an active older brother (relationships), or in Senate (leadership), you are the best! I am so proud of you, and so grateful for your investment to Senate. You have changed this program in such positive ways. Rachel, you are carefree, organized, and creative – the perfect package. You provide so much energy and compassion to Senate. I appreciate you striking such a wonderful balance between taking charge, but encouraging others to step up and grow.

My door is forever open to you all. There is no issue or circumstance that could present itself to you in the future that I would not be interested in learning about and guiding you through. I love you all and will miss you more than you know. - Mrs. Bos-Martin

Dear Acorn Staff,

You might think 11 years in the publications business would make it really easy for me to write "this year." Saying what Acorn's about...saying it ALL... would be impossible. And saying it's "the END" would be wrong. Memory won't allow that, after all. I think it's a very good thing. What I can say is that each of you somehow kept it real here - HONEST- and I love that about you. Thanks to Veronica, for being a very true and dependable barometer whenever things got crazy, to Melanie, for rewarding us once again with your vibrant spirit that translates beautifully to your work, to Breanna, for keeping Acorn in mind, and after two years, embracing the chance to just give it a try, to Mr. Costigan, for writing well in the final stretch, and the ever so affectionate pet name: "Maudie Bear," to Rachel D., for sharing the chair every day with Emily, and for watching and listening and absorbing, and for being "too good" ALL of the time, to Erika, for bringing a unique flair to our Acorn dynamic, for warming quickly to the atmosphere, and for keeping Adam in check, to Caitlin, for floating into things so seamlessly, for being a leader among leaders, and for laughing at me soooo long just now, when Tony said, "Hey, Maudlin, if you ever need your car towed..." (and I can't write the rest, and you know why)...

to Andrew D. for being calm and quiet in one moment, and for stomping on my cute cuddly teddy bear with your big boots in the next, to Kady, for faithfully selling bagels and holding the bag just high enough that one day when there was a ruckus, for understanding me well enough to say "I love you," even after one of my "this is really hard to say" adviser speeches, to Brianna, for being right out there with your thoughts in a way I deeply respect, for developing a voice-on the page and through layouts- that speaks boldly and well, for being sound and poised and gracious and steady, and for being able to smile and relax and breathe so evenly from one issue to the next, even though you were a little worried about that back in the day, to Adam, for your keen instincts and your eye, and for keeping on me to read "A God Shaped Hole," to Lauren, for a wit that's dry and wonderfully full of surprises, to Matt H. for being our Photoshop guru and all-around steady hand at the computer, and saying yes always, even if it's at the last minute, to Spence, for performing stuffed animal shows through the office window in between counting monies and keeping records, to Gabe, for being ridiculously outrageous that one day with the GFC recycling container, for keeping me on my toes, and for making me laugh in spite of myself, to Katie, for being on call with a camera and creative instincts and amazing patience during so many hours, to Miya, for keeping people in check and having things to say that needed to be heard, to Billy, for being a quick study, a capable writer and for being able to converse with me comfortably and take care of business all the while connected to an ipod, to Marky, for displaying a wonderfully obvious and endearing sort of quiet and wit, to Autumn, for decompressing by walking the halls and raiding the chocolate dishes with me, for having a sense of humor that is a match for mine, and integrity that I respect greatly, and for listening to my otter story in the wake of that "weightier" stuff that will never compare to the sharp, scholarly, passionate, and remarkably wise soul that you are, to Matt K., for being our video game beat reporter, and for introducing us to "winter -een -mas," to Rayna, for taking on the task of organizing all those past issues, editing so many stories and for writing "the bigger picture," to Meghan, for being spirited and fun, compassionate, effervescent, a great friend to all, and most importantly, a person of great force and substance, to Lisa, for consistently combining good cheer with a sense of diplomacy, to Lauryn, for being a strong instinctual writer, for enduring the now legendary bagel incident, and for "putting up the mirror" after I've made myself all too obvious through my expressions, to Abby, for invigorating our class with fun and boldness and hilarity, to Jillian, for being in this two years already, for being the hope, for being so driven and undaunted and inspired - a leader in the truest sense, to Rachel R., for resilience and soundness and smiling and being versatile and visible and respected all over this place in so many ways, to Beth, for being Marky's devoted ad partner all year long, for being generous of spirit and helpful and kind, for keeping everyone else in mind, and for running so many copies, to Zach for selling bagels and playing Van Halen unrelentingly in the office and entertaining us regularly by convulsing with your own laughter, to Tony, for shooting those bottle caps so well and still being a gentleman always, for being a good writer even at the last minute, and for sharing my love for Cat Stevens and Jim Croce, and to Emily, for letting us see YOU - your smarts, your sass, and your sense of fun -and for hurling the green pillow my way, even when I didn't ask for it.

Thanks for a great year. I really love you guys.

"Be who you are and say what you feel, because those who mind don't matter and those who matter don't mind."

- Dr. Seuss

May good luck and fortune find you everywhere you go. We'll be behind you forever and always!

Love,
Mom, Dad and Jake

Rebecca Young

It's been a blast watching you grow up! You are bright, articulate, funny, intelligent and a great friend. Your artistic, musical and athletic abilities continue to amaze us. We admire you for your fair-mindedness and the non-judgmental way that you deal with people. The gift of knowing what you want from life is an admirable trait and will take you far. You have become a "phenomenal woman," and we are so proud of you!

With much love and many hugs,
Mom and Dad

Kristin Flanigan

Kristin,
Since the day you were born, you have always been an inspiration to all of us. From the first steps you took in life to the first words you spoke. You have always been kind, considerate and respectful of others. You have grown into a loving, caring and beautiful young lady.

We can't believe this chapter in your life is ending; it seems like yesterday that you entered Dondero High School as a high school freshman, and you're walking out as the last class to graduate from Dondero with dignity and honor, and for that we are so proud of you.

We wish you the best of luck for the future that awaits you. With your dedication to whatever you do in life, I know you are going to make a difference in this great land of ours.

We love you, Kristin,
Mom, Dad, and Kelsey

P.S. No matter how hard life may get at times, keep working hard and don't give up, because you can make a difference.

Max Schurig

Since the day you were born, you've brought nothing but joy to your family. We admire your intellect, we respect your strong moral character and we delight in your goofiness.

Thanks for the music, Mr. Piano Man. Keep moving to your own beat, and the world will be yours. We love you, sweetie.

Mom and Dad

Sean Riopelle

You never cease to amaze us. Keep going!

We love you, Mom, Dad, Chris, Aunt Nay,
Jason and Kallie

Elise Androkites

Our sweet Lisey Girl,

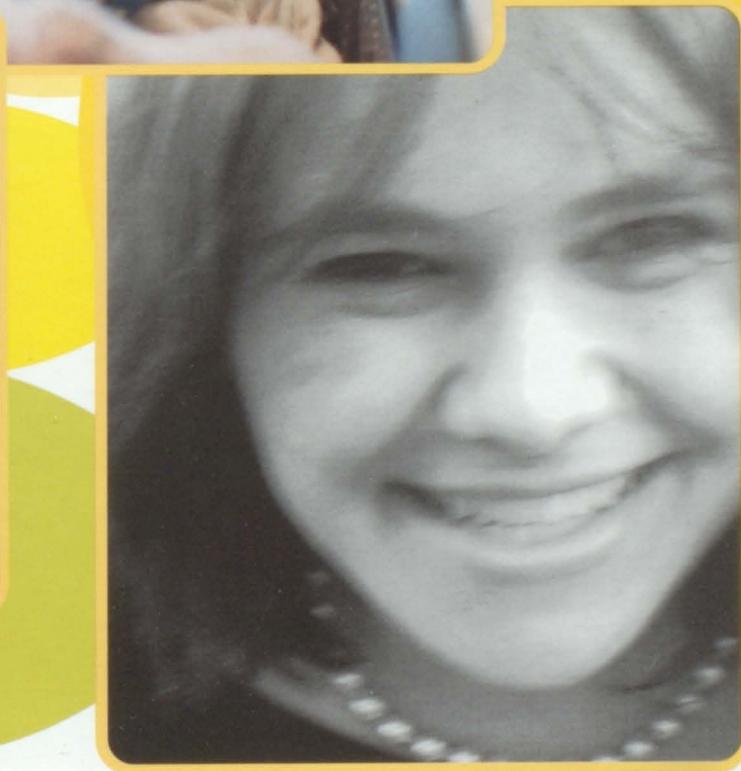

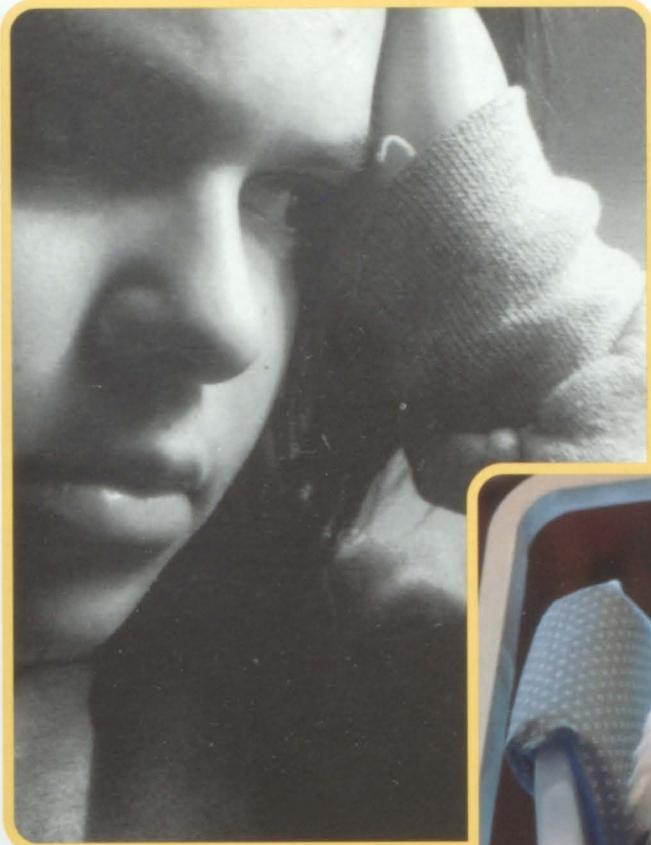

From the moment you were born you have brightened our lives. We have watched you grow from a darling baby to a beautiful young woman. You amaze us with your creativity, ambition, leadership, and outstanding character. We are so very proud of you.

... “Love you forever and forever, love you with all our hearts. Love you whenever we’re together, love you when we’re apart...”

All our love,
Daddy and Mom

Jamie Skewes

We celebrate the ways in which you have grown from challenges that you have faced, your strengths that you have gained, and from the wisdom you have gathered from all your past experiences.

We celebrate the beautiful person that you are and the person you are becoming.

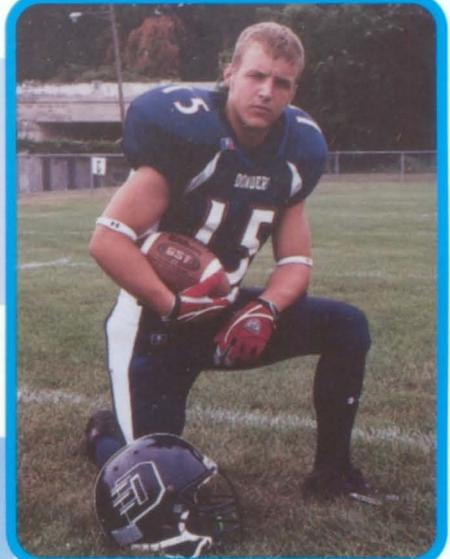

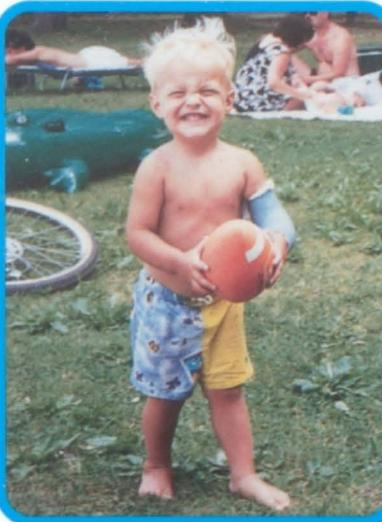

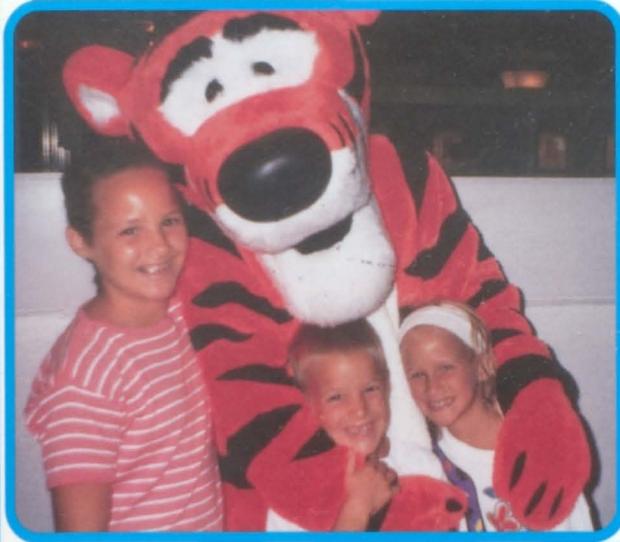

We are so excited for you, knowing that you are about to experience a new phase in your life, and we feel confident that you are ready for your most incredible journey of pursuing your dreams and finding yourself. Remember to keep a good heart, make good choices and follow your dreams so that you can create the best life for yourself.

We love you and are very proud of you.

Always remember that we are here for you.

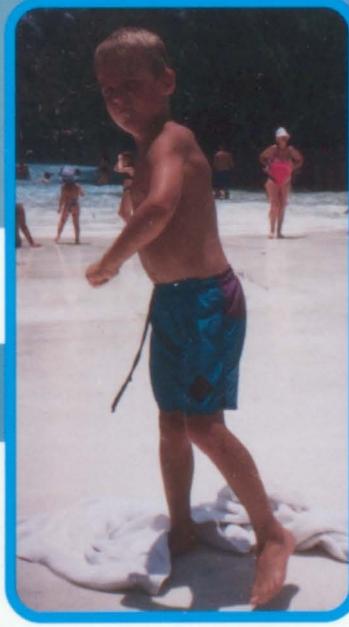

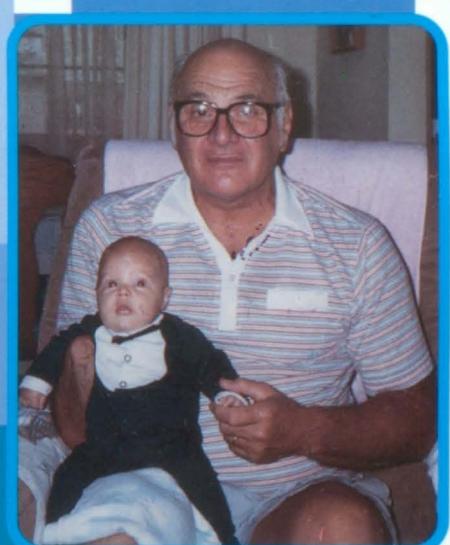

Love,
Dad, Mom and Michelle

Tony Susin

Tony,
It's your spirit for life that we admire so much! The world awaits you - continue to shine your light in all you choose to do.

Good luck, and we love you.

“Child of Mine”
Carole King

Although you see the world different than me, sometimes I can touch upon the wonders that you see.
And all the new colors and pictures you've designed,
oh yes, sweet darling, so glad you are a child of mine.

Child of mine, child of mine, oh yes sweet darling
so glad you are a child of mine.

You don't need directions, you know which way to go, and I don't want to hold you back, I just want to watch you grow.
You're the one who taught me, you don't have to look behind.

Oh yes, sweet darling, so glad you are a child of mine.

Child of mine, child of mine, oh yes, sweet darling
so glad you are a child of mine.

Nobody's gonna kill your dreams or tell you how to live your life.

There'll always be people who make it hard for awhile,
but you'll change their heads when they see you smile.

The times you were born in may not have been the best,
but you can make the times to come better than the rest.
I know you will be honest if you can't always be kind,
oh yes, sweet darling, so glad you are a child of mine

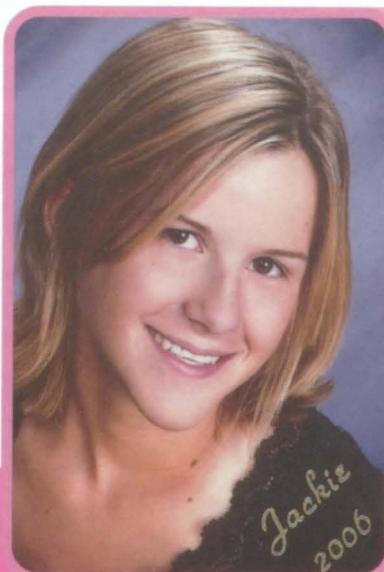

Evan,

To whom much is given, much shall be required.
You have exceeded every hope and dream we've had for you thus far.
It is truly a privilege to be your parents.

Baby, where has the time gone?
Yesterday kindergarten, today graduating. Well, somewhere in between you've grown into a wonderful, smart, beautiful young lady who we couldn't be more proud of! So, we have no doubts that whatever you choose to do now, you'll do your very best at it just like you always do. As you go on, just remember, wherever you go, whatever you do, we'll always be your # 1 fans!

All our love,
Mom and Dad

P.S. How about hitting us a homerun!

I am so proud of you! You are an awesome sister, and I will never forget how much fun we have together! You have grown from my cute little sister with a bad stuttering problem to my gorgeous (taller than me!) sister who I can tell any problem to and get good advice back. You are one of my very best friends, and I am so proud of you for every thing that you have accomplished!

I love you EET,

Max,

You have been my best friend all through high school. I will cherish all of the good times we had. I would have never imagined myself being as involved as I am, and I have you to thank. From the plays and musicals to A Cappella and Minority, you have made my high school career something that I will never forget. You have always supported me and made me feel better whenever I was sad. You have made my senior year a year I will never forget. I love you with all of my heart.

Dear Reader,

You have reached the end of the book; the ending to another chapter in your life, and the closing of Dondero High School. As the end of the year approaches and the doors of Dondero High School close, you may be overcome with many different emotions. To some it may be fear of change and to others it may be the excitement of moving on. No matter what emotions you experience, everyone shares the memories of Dondero High School. What you must come to realize is that as one door closes in your life, another one opens. Continue on your journey and do not lose sight of who you are and what you want to be. May there never be a final word when you reflect upon Dondero High School.

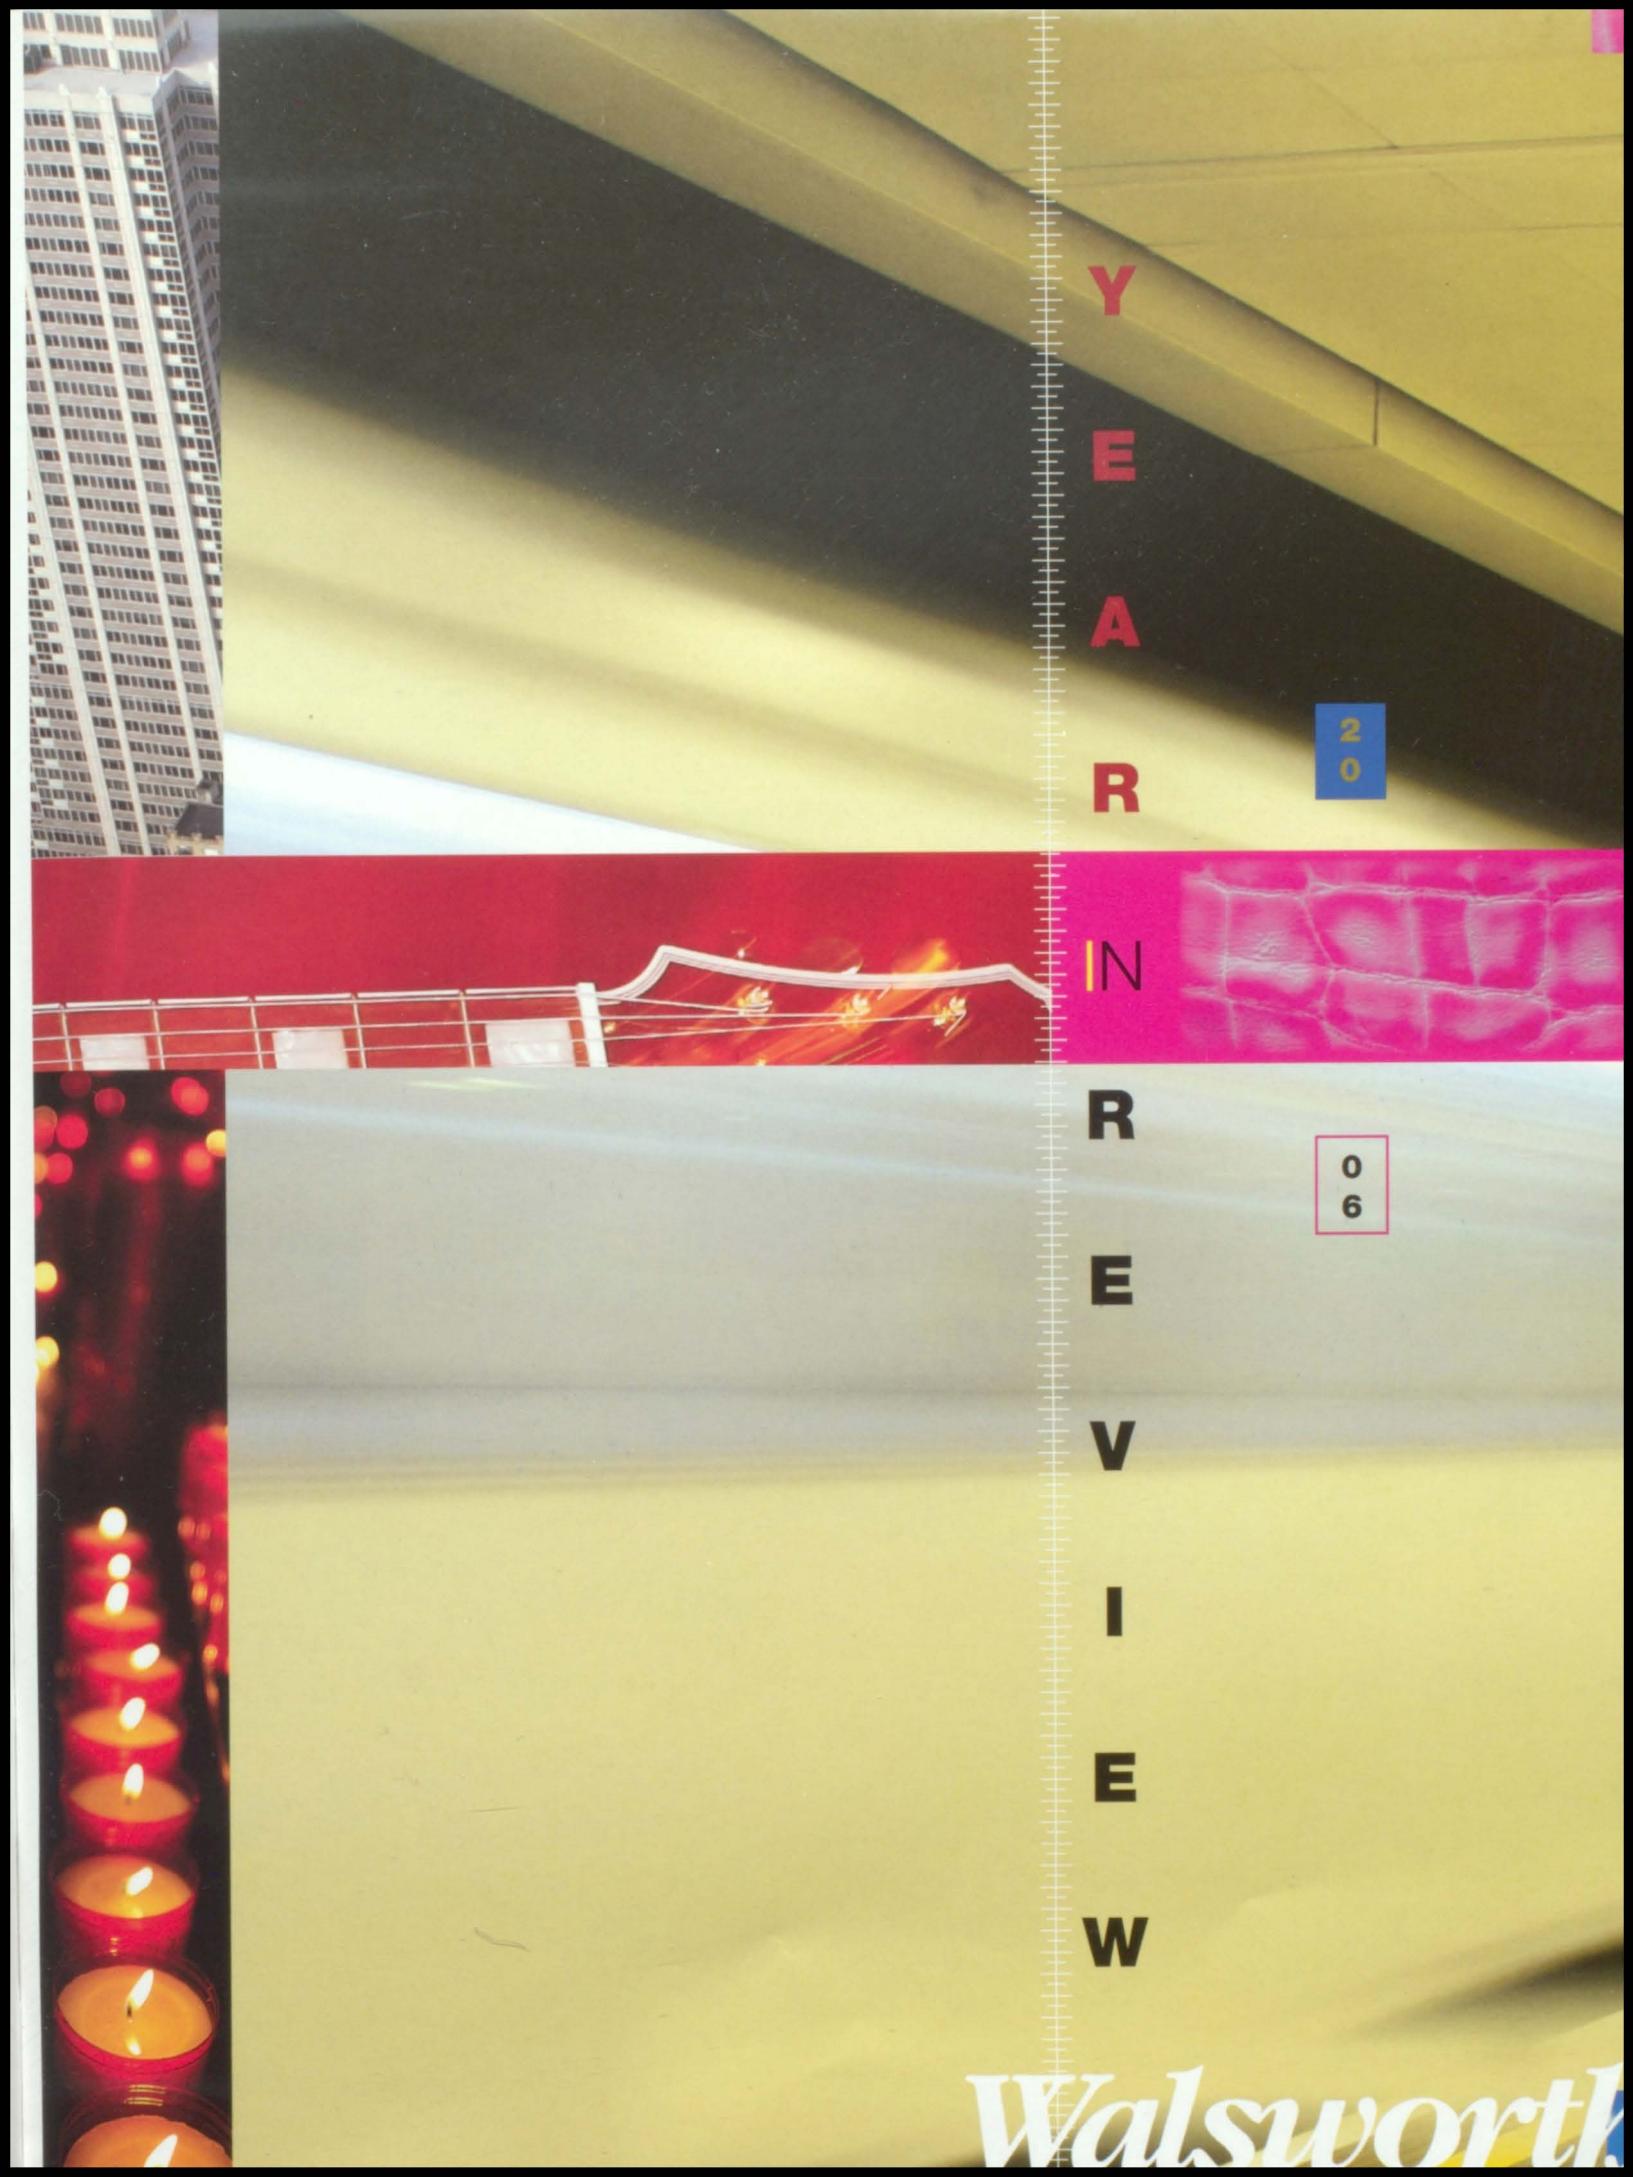

With Love,

A-D Storm surge

The 2005 hurricane season led to a record 27 named storms – 14 of them hurricanes – with several of them striking the U.S. Gulf and Atlantic coasts. Losses were estimated at $57.6 billion in the U.S. from hurricanes Katrina, Rita and Wilma, with those first two storms throwing more than 500,000 people out of work. Here's a breakdown of some of the damage:

- Katrina struck the tip of Florida before making a beeline for Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama on Aug. 29, destroying homes and businesses and taking more than 1,200 lives.
- New Orleans flooded after levees broke, leading to many rooftop rescues. More than 25,000 people, including the 23,000 who fled to the New Orleans Superdome, were sent to Houston's Astrodome for temporary shelter.
- The Mississippi coast took a direct hit, with high winds and 20-foot high waves leveling buildings and even moving casinos off their moorings.
- About 372,000 children from all three states started school in different cities or were being home-schooled; and approximately 18,000 college students from Louisiana spent the fall semester at other universities.
- Rita struck three weeks later in Louisiana and Texas. In one of the largest evacuations ever, 2.8 million people in southeast Texas, including Houston and Galveston, struggled to leave.
- Arlene hit Mississippi and Alabama, while Dennis struck Alabama and Florida. Ophelia stayed offshore of the Carolinas and Virginia and pummeled the area with heavy rains.

E. Hurricane tragedies widespread

Wilma hit Mexico first, stranding tourists and damaging Mexico's resorts and economy. The tragedy was much greater in Guatemala following heavy rain from Hurricane Stan. More than 650 people died and more than 370 were missing after massive landslides there buried communities. Mexico, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras and Costa Rica also reported deaths and damage from Stan.

I. Palestinians elect change

Members of the Hamas organization, which calls for the destruction of Israel, won a majority of the seats in the Palestinian Parliament in January. The United States, the European Union and Israel have labeled Hamas a terrorist group, and were carefully watching the change of government.

J. Top court shuffle

Two vacancies were filled on the U.S. Supreme Court. John G. Roberts became the new chief justice, replacing William Rehnquist after his death. Samuel Alito took the seat of Sandra Day O'Connor, who retired.

K. Matriarchs pass on

Rosa Parks and Coretta Scott King, two leaders of the civil rights movement, died within a few months of each other. Parks was remembered for refusing to give her bus seat to a white man in Montgomery, Ala., in 1955. King was the wife of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., and she founded the King Center for Nonviolent Social Change in Atlanta to carry on his work.

L. Gas, oil prices heat up

High gasoline prices increased even more following hurricanes Katrina and Rita, which damaged oil refineries in the Gulf region. Prices were up already because of increased summer demand, higher crude prices and less refining capacity worldwide. Winter heating bills also surged as oil companies tried to repair damage and restore production.

M. Mountain tragedy

A massive earthquake in the mountains of the Kashmir region of Pakistan in October killed more than 79,000 people, injured almost as many, and left about 3.3 million homeless as winter approached. Donations were lacking and relief supplies were slow in reaching the needy.

O. Flu scare for the birds

Medical officials put the world on notice after a strain of avian flu was detected in some isolated human cases in China and Hong Kong. After more cases popped up elsewhere, the World Health Organization urged countries to prepare for a possible pandemic. There were concerns not only about migratory birds spreading the disease, but commercial fowl shipped for consumption.

Q. Should they listen in?

The National Security Agency came under fire for using electronic eavesdropping without warrants. The practice began after the 9/11 attacks to fight terrorism, and while the Bush administration, including Attorney General Alberto Gonzales, defended the practice, others argued it was illegal.

R. Mining tragedies

Sixteen West Virginia coal miners died in separate accidents in January, as did one miner in Kentucky. In the first accident at the Sago mine in West Virginia, a terrible miscommunication led the families to believe the men were alive after a 41-hour rescue.

A-E Games of Turin

Turin, Italy stepped onto the world stage and played host to the Winter Olympics for two weeks in February. It was the largest Winter Olympics ever, with 2,500 athletes representing 82 countries competing in 84 events.

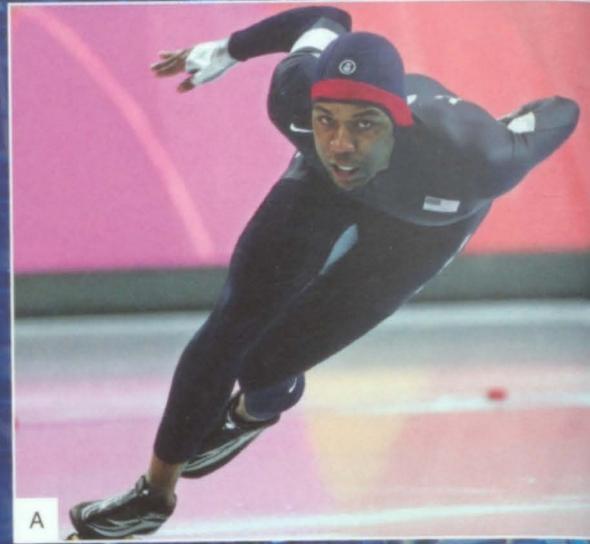

Long-track speedskating turned into one of the American team's best events. Shani Davis (A) won the Gold medal in the men's 1,000 meters and became the first African-American champion in Winter Olympics history. Former inline skating champion Chad Hedrick became an Olympic speedskating champion in the men's 5,000 meters just three years after taking the ice in the sport for the very first time. They were joined at the top of the podium by teammate Joey Cheek, who sprinted to Gold in the men's 500 meters.

Snowboarding was also ruled by the U.S. Shaun White (B), nicknamed "The Flying Tomato" for his bright red hair and acrobatic moves on the extreme sports circuit, won the Gold medal in the Men's Halfpipe. The 19-year old White showed nervousness when he fell during qualifying, but he recovered to win the Gold with a flourish in the finals. Other American winners included Hannah Teter in the Women's Halfpipe and Seth Wescott in the Men's Cross.

Ted Ligety (C) gave the U.S. ski team a boost by winning the Alpine Combined. It was the first Olympic appearance for the relatively unknown Ligety. He became only the fourth American male to win an Alpine Olympic Gold medal.

It was not all positive news for the U.S. Snowboarder Lindsey Jacobellis (D) poignantly summed up the highs and lows of the Olympic journey. Jacobellis was easily racing to victory in the finals of the Women's Cross when she threw too much style into an aerial and crashed. Jacobellis was unable to recover in time to keep her lead, and she was forced to settle for the Silver medal.

I. Danica in the driver's seat

Danica Patrick was not the first woman to ever race in the Indy Racing League, but she might have made the biggest splash, qualifying and finishing fourth at the Indy 500, the highest finish ever by a rookie driver. The 23-year-old Patrick went on to win IRL rookie of the year after several top 10 finishes.

J. A bumpy ride

Cyclist Lance Armstrong pedaled his way through another newsworthy year, winning the Tour de France for a record seventh consecutive time, then retiring from the sport, announcing his engagement and break-up to rock star Sheryl Crow and again being forced to respond to doping allegations from the French media.

K. One for the ages

USC's Heisman Trophy teammates, running back Reggie Bush and quarterback Matt Leinart, were not quite good enough to win a third straight college football national title, as the Trojans fell to Texas, 41-38, in the dramatic championship game at the Rose Bowl. Texas quarterback Vince Young stole the show, scoring the game-winning touchdown with 19 seconds left.

L. No more T.O.

Just one year after helping the Philadelphia Eagles reach the Super Bowl, wide receiver Terrell Owens got suspended from the team in mid-season, due to his detrimental conduct. The problems started when the outspoken and controversial Owens got upset that the team would not re-negotiate his contract.

M. Sensational Stewart

Behind a season that included five wins and 24 top 10 finishes, NASCAR driver Tony Stewart won his second Nextel Cup championship. Often referred to in the past as the bad boy of racing due to his short temper, Stewart joined Jeff Gordon as the only multiple Cup winner among active drivers.

N. Golden retirement

Considered by many the greatest golfer of his time, Jack Nicklaus decided to retire from competitive golf at the age of 65. Nicklaus won 18 major championships in his career, more than anybody in history. In his final round at the British Open, Nicklaus ended in style by sinking a 15-foot birdie on the final hole.

O. Two of a kind

The San Antonio Spurs and Detroit Pistons, respective winners of the previous two NBA championships, continued their domination. The two teams met in the 2005 NBA Finals, with the Spurs winning in seven games. Both rolled along during the 2006 season, compiling two of the best records in basketball by the All-Star Break.

P. Cleaning up the game

Baseball's steroid use scandal continued, with many high-profile players even testifying at Congressional hearings. Baltimore Orioles star Rafael Palmeiro denied use, then tested positive and was suspended during the season. After the 2005 season, Major League Baseball instituted a stricter steroid testing policy.

Los Angeles Lakers guard Kobe Bryant scored 81 points in one game, the second highest individual total in NBA history.

USC running back Reggie Bush won the Heisman Trophy in a landslide vote.

Swiss tennis star Roger Federer stayed number one in the world by winning Wimbledon, the U.S. Open and the Australian Open.

A. Shuttle back in orbit

Two years after the Columbia tragedy grounded NASA's manned space flight program, space shuttle Discovery returned NASA to outer space with a successful two-week mission. However, anxious moments came after foam insulation knocked loose on take-off caused a two-day delay in Discovery's return to Earth.

B. Science or religion?

Communities and school districts ferociously debated the merits of Intelligent Design, a concept that asserts certain aspects of the living world seemed to be caused by an intelligent source, rather than a random process such as natural selection. Opponents claimed it was religion masquerading as science, while proponents insisted it should be a respected point of view.

C. Space tourist

American scientist Gregory Olsen paid $20 million for a 10-day trip to the International Space Station. Olsen, the co-founder and chairman of his own fiber-optics company, made the trip aboard a Russian rocket and became only the third civilian to become a "space tourist."

D. 360 around the world

Microsoft released its newest gaming system, Xbox 360, just in time for the holidays and prompted shoppers to camp out in lines to gobble them up. The consoles were also launched with a new expanded service from Microsoft that allowed gamers worldwide to play one another.

E. Generation MySpace

Teens continued becoming more immersed in the internet. MySpace.com, an online social community geared toward young adults and musicians, became one of the fastest-growing websites on the internet. Just two years old, MySpace's membership approached 50 million users and began getting more hits than Google and AOL. Elsewhere, popular online encyclopedias like Wikipedia started to be viewed as viable reference tools, despite debates regarding its accuracy.

F. Lost World

Conservation groups on an expedition into the remote tropical jungles of Indonesia discovered dozens of new animal and plant species. The scientists reportedly found up to 20 new types of frogs and a species of tree kangaroo (pictured) that was previously thought to be extinct.

G. Park for free

Salt Lake City joined a growing list of American cities that began offering free metered downtown parking for more environmentally friendly vehicles. To qualify, cars needed to get at least 50 miles to the gallon or be a hybrid powered by an alternative fuel. Other cities that offered similar programs included Austin, Texas and New Haven, Conn.

H. Landmark surgery

Doctors in Miami successfully removed a 16-pound tumor from the face of Marlie Casseus, a 14-year-old Haitian girl suffering from a rare genetic disorder. Casseus was brought to the United States for the procedure after aid workers in Haiti discovered her case. Donations from all over the world helped Casseus' family pay the medical bills.

I. Monkey business

A group of American scientists announced that they successfully decoded the DNA of the chimpanzee, considered the closest relative to humans in nature. By comparing the chimp DNA to human DNA, the doctors hoped to discover the roots of various diseases.

entertainment | YEAR IN REVIEW 2006

A. By George, a great year

Already one of America's most popular movie stars, George Clooney added critical acclaim to his resume by earning two Oscar nominations. Clooney received a Best Supporting Actor nod for his role as a CIA spy in the thriller Syriana, and a Best Director nomination for the Edward R. Murrow biopic Good Night, and Good Luck, which also was nominated for Best Picture.

B. A slice of real life

The films honored with Best Picture Oscar nominations relied heavily on real events. Munich told the story of fallout from the terrorist attacks at the 1972 Olympics, Good Night, and Good Luck focused on 1950s TV journalist Edward R. Murrow, and Capote examined the life of famed writer Truman Capote. Other Best Picture nominees included Brokeback Mountain and Crash.

C. King of the mountain

An updated version of the classic tale of King Kong made it into theaters around New Year's. The big-budget, special effects blockbuster once again told the story of the giant ape discovered on a mysterious tropical island, who is brought to Depression-era New York as a sideshow act.

D. May the force be with you... always

The long-awaited final movie in the Star Wars saga, Revenge of the Sith, dominated the box office and became one of the highest grossing films of all-time, earning nearly $400 million. Despite the critical and financial success of Sith, series creator George Lucas vowed the story was over and no more Star Wars movies would be made.

E. Not Lost on the audience

Lost, ABC's adventure series about a group of people stranded on a mysterious island after a plane crash, won Best Drama Series at the Emmy Awards and continued to attract nearly 20 million viewers each week.

Joaquin Phoenix and Reese Witherspoon both got Oscar nominations for playing Johnny and June Carter Cash in Walk the Line.

Popular children's tale, Chronicles of Narnia: The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe, was made into a hit movie.

L. Whole new idols

Carrie Underwood won the fourth season of musical reality TV show American Idol. By the spring, 24 new hopefuls were picked as finalists for the fifth season. Meanwhile, past winners Kelly Clarkson and Fantasia became the first Idol alums to earn Grammy nominations.

M. Womack wins

Straying away from the trend of pop-infused country music, Lee Ann Womack was rewarded with three wins at the CMA Awards. Womack's traditional country record, There's More Where That Came From, won Album of the Year and her ballad "I May Hate Myself in the Morning" won Song of the Year.

N. The first lady

So when will the U.S. have a female president? In the world of fictional TV, it happened this year. ABC's Commander In Chief cast Geena Davis in the role of the president, and the drama series became the highest-rated new show on the air.

O. Gone, but not forgotten

Famed American comedian Richard Pryor died after a long battle with multiple sclerosis. Other noteworthy entertainers to pass away included R&B singer Luther Vandross, actresses Anne Bancroft and Shelley Winters, and actor Pat Morita, the beloved Mr. Miyagi from The Karate Kid movies.

P. 8 is enough

On the 20th anniversary of his famous charity concert Live Aid, music producer Bob Geldof reprised the event by staging Live 8, a series of charity concerts that took place in eight countries during the first week of July. Estimates indicated that more than one million people attended and more than 1,000 musicians performed at Live 8.

U2 lead singer Bono received another prestigious honor, but this one had nothing to do with his music. Bono, along with Microsoft founder Bill Gates and his wife, Melinda, were chosen Persons of the Year by Time magazine for their global charitable efforts to fight poverty and disease.

R. Kanye keeps up

Controversial rapper Kanye West made headlines for his music, with his latest album Late Registration earning eight Grammy nominations, and for his mouth after he criticized President George W. Bush's handling of Hurricane Katrina.

S. A new job with Disney

Steve Jobs, co-founder and CEO of Apple Computers, strengthened his status as a pop culture icon after his Pixar Animation Studios, the creator of popular computer animated movies like The Incredibles and Toy Story, agreed to a merger with longtime partner Walt Disney Pictures. In the process, Jobs became the largest shareholder in Disney.

T. A million questions

Author James Frey garnered critical acclaim for his best-selling self-help memoir A Million Little Pieces, which told the story of how he overcame a life of crime and drug addiction. However after much public scrutiny, Frey admitted that large portions of the book were exaggerated and embellished.

U. Back on the air

A grassroots fan movement, driven largely by DVD sales, prompted Fox to bring back animated comedy series Family Guy. The show, centered on the wild antics of an off-the-wall Rhode Island family, a diabolical one-year old baby and their talking dog, had been cancelled by Fox in 2002.

A. I want my iPod TV

When Apple Computers developed the latest generation of its popular iPod digital music player, users were thrilled to find they could now download video files. In the first three weeks of the new service, iPod users bought more than one million video podcasts.

B. Movies at home

Box office numbers were down and movie theaters sold fewer tickets, but many industry analysts said the decline was due to the growing number of people with high-tech home theaters simply choosing to wait a few months for films to go to DVD.

C. A chip in poker craze

While some analysts think poker peaked in popularity, the card game remained a pastime, with some teens holding supervised games at home and watching tournaments on television. Some adults spoke out against teens playing poker, since it is gambling.

D. Digital revolution

Downloadable digital music continued to drastically alter the recording industry. Studies showed that the sales of CDs and albums were down eight percent over the previous year, while sales of digital singles increased 150 percent.

E. Play for work

It's not just fun and games. More colleges began offering courses and degrees related to video games as the industry becomes serious business. The colleges are feeding a demand for skilled developers and technicians.

F

F. Blog this

A study showed that half of all teens and 57 percent of teens who use the internet have created a blog or website or posted something online. The study by Pew Internet and American Life Project was conducted to look at falling newspaper readership.
